Residents protest Grandin Road shopping centre

City council played to a packed house Monday night, when a number of residents attended a public hearing to air their views on a proposed neighbourhood shopping centre. The centre would be located on the east side of Grandin Road, north of Levasseur. The property is designated as highway commercial and is being developed by Venture Properties Ltd. Such a zoning designation permits a variety of commercial development, including a gas bar. However, upon being told by the city that a gas bar would not suit the character of the neighbourhood, the developer consented to delete this proposal and substitute a restaurant. Council members were in agreement that the highway commercial designation was inappropriate for the area, but the zoning was made several years ago.

Mr. Robert Crossley, a resident of the area, read a letter from he and his wife, protesting the shopping centre-restaurant complex. He expressed concern regarding the possible devaluation of his property. He stated that the area was already serviced by the shopping centre located at Grosvenor Boulevard and Gordon Crescent. Mr. Crossley said he had been aware of the property's highway commercial designation when he purchased his house.

Representing the developer, Venture Properties, Peter Matthews told council that the company had paid a price for the land commensurate with its highway commercial designation. He pointed out that under that zoning category, the company was entitled to put in a gas bar as well as a restaurant. However, he said the company had deleted the gas bar usage so that the development would conform with the neighbourhood.

Ald. Breadner asked if the company would consider developing the property for multiple family residential. Please Turn To Page 2

It's the poops!

Protestant trustees had a good laugh Wednesday when they discussed a Joint Use Committee proposal to ask the city for an animal control bylaw.

Ernie Wynchuk, the District 6 representative on the committee, asked Superintendent Elmer Gish to prepare a report on the situation concerning the District's school grounds.

The request hit a funny spot with Trustee Wes

Penner who asked the superintendent what he intended on using as data collecting instruments.

Elmer was on his toes however, and shot back, "I suppose you would like a concrete report?"

We'll keep you informed on developments.

In the meantime another group has expressed indignation regarding a similar situation on St. Albert's. Please Turn To Page 2

THERE IT GOES

The Melton bus bench was physically removed from its location beside the Bruin Inn on Perron Street after months of tricking St. Albert Transit patrons into believing they could actually wait for a bus on it. Last Wednesday the Gazette pointed out this rather annoying fact to the City by way of a front page photo. Obviously somebody at City Hall got the message.

Project incentive receives go-ahead from Protestant board

Amid the glare of CBC television lights Protestant Separate school trustees launched the most interesting of several recommendations suggested by district administration to fight the growing problem of vandalism.

Project Incentive will be a three year pilot study which 'rewards' students in relation to the control of vandalism within their schools during school hours.

Each school will be allotted a sum of money in the amount of $1.50 per pupil. Vandalism costs which occur at the school over the next year which have not been recovered from those responsible will be charged against the original sum and the remainder will be given to a committee to determine what uses it will be put toward.

Trustee Wes Penner suggested the committee be a standing one consisting of a student, teacher, principal and custodian which could adjudicate on incidents throughout the year to define acts of vandalism as opposed to those which are of an accidental nature.

Four schools - Paul Kane, Sir George Simpson, Lorne Akins and W.D. Cuts - will be involved in the program, originally piloted in a San Francisco school district.

Studies in the U.S. district made it clear the program needed repetition and an effort made at regeneration of pupil interest to maintain an acceptable level of success. Pupils must be constantly aware of the benefits of controlling vandalism to make Project Incentive work.

Trustee Scott Friese queries the man responsible for setting up the program, Assistant Superintendent Bob Prather, whether they were dealing with a symptom of vandalism rather than getting at the root of the problem. Mr. Prather replied that he couldn't say for sure what the root of the problem was but, he was sure it was. Please Turn To Page 2

Woodlands moves one step closer

Unless some council members undergo a change of heart in the next two weeks, it looks as if CARMA Developers will get the nod to proceed with phase one of the Woodlands development. At Monday night's regular meeting of council, a bylaw to remove the area from development control and amend the zoning to a residential category passed first and second reading. However, it failed to achieve unanimous consent, with Aldermen Bill Shields and Barry Breadner voting against the bylaw.

A vote on another bylaw which would authorize the imposition of off-site cost levies as well as the city's entry into a development agreement with CARMA, came to a similar conclusion. It too passed first and second reading, but failed to gain unanimous consent, with Aldermen Shields and Breadner again in opposition. In two weeks time, the two bylaws will be given third reading. On that occasion, only a simple majority, not a unanimous vote, is needed to pass the bylaw.

The first phase of the Woodlands development is located northeast of Boudreau Road and south of Sturgeon Road, which will be realigned from Boudreau Road to the sewage pump house. This phase will consist of 61 residential units to house an anticipated population of 2,226 persons. This population would be distributed with 13.4 persons per developable acre. The outline plan for the proposed neighbourhood was approved by council on May 2, 1977.

As a result of negotiations with the city, CARMA has agreed to donate certain lands near the river, as well as 10 percent of the developable land, and an additional amount for school sites. In addition to the normal landscaping requirements, CARMA will provide an adventure play area and illuminated hockey and skating rinks with a changing shack and paved parking lot. Also planned are two soccer fields and one combination soccer field and baseball diamond.

Concern was expressed at Monday's meeting regarding the revision of Carma's subdivision plan to include several smaller lots, which are less than the minimum standard size for St. Albert. These smaller lots will increase the density of the area by 19 units from the original plan. Because of the reduced lot size, the area could not be zoned for single family residential, and under the proposed bylaw it was to be assigned a residential comprehensive designation. According to City Manager Bob Byron, this would be sufficient to establish the residential character of the neighbourhood.

However, some aldermen expressed doubt about this general residential category. Alderwoman Margaret Smith moved an amendment to the bylaw which would zone the area single family residential, rather than residential comprehensive. Mrs. Smith felt the smaller lot sizes would make the neighbourhood different from other city housing and said she thought the city should "stick with the minimum standard."

Mr. Byron pointed out that the original plan for the area did not provide enough density to make the scheme viable, so the smaller lots were introduced.

Ald. Roger Ayotte commented that a 50 foot lot was not necessarily a "negative thing," as a zero lot line type of design had been used successfully in the Woodvale area of Edmonton. Ald. Breadner pointed out that the saving on the smaller lots would not be passed on to the consumer, as the profit margin for the developer was too minimal.

Mrs. Smith's amendment was defeated.

TRANSPORTATION BUGBEAR

The main objection to the bylaw posed by Ald. Breadner and Shields concerned transportation. Ald. Shields said that he could not support the bylaw despite the fact that the city's previous experience with Carma had been "excellent." Mr. Shields said he was "in a dilemma," as he could not support the concept until the provincial government committed itself to. Please Turn To Page 7

Gazette prints "innocuous drivell?"

The discussion of a bylaw relating to the approval of the first phase of the Woodlands development, had its volatile moments Monday night. Council was devoting its attention to transportation links necessitated by the proposed development when Alderman Barry Breadner delivered himself of some heated opinions on MLA Ernie Jamison and the St. Albert Gazette.

Mr. Breadner stated that there had been no assurance from the government on a 149 Street-156 Street link. He termed such a road essential for the Campbell Industrial Park and the Woodlands development.

"I only wish we had the support of the MLA on this matter," said Mr. Breadner.

He went on to criticize last week's edition of the newspaper, saying that a story about Mr. Jamison's speech during the budget debate was "innocuous drivell." He further stated that Mr. Jamison's proposal for the west by-pass had no approval from the ministers involved, namely Messrs. Horner, Johnson and Yurko. Please Turn To Page 2 ## protest

but Mr. Matthews said such a project would "not be economically attractive to the company."

Another resident, Ted DeGroot, said he was not aware of the zoning when he purchased the property, and expressed concern about the traffic the project would bring into the area.

"What are you trying to do to us?" was the question from one resident, Mrs. Gordon Hayden. Mrs. Hayden commented on the amount of commercial development in the area, making reference to the drive-in and other developments. In answer to a question from Ald. Roger Ayotte, Mrs. Hayden said she knew nothing of the zoning when she purchased her house. "Council should give some concern to our feelings," she said.

EX-MAYOR PROTESTS

Former St. Albert Mayor Ray Gibbon was next to protest the development. Mr. Gibbon gave some of the history of the lot in contention. He told council the area had been under litigation with St. Albert Developments, and that suit had been settled in 1967, at which time it was decided the lot had to be left under a commercial designation. However, Mr. Gibbon said that council had the power to circumvent the zoning and suggested putting single family dwellings on the property. He listed the number of shopping centres in the Grandin area and said that the Grandin area had more than any other area.

WHODUNIT?

Ald. Margaret Smith expressed curiosity as to the origin of the highway commercial designation suggesting it occurred "while you were on council." Mr. Gibbon stated that that designation had come into being after 1974.

"No it didn't," responded Ald. Smith. "That's when I came on council."

"That's not the point!" said Mr. Gibbon.

"It is!" said Mrs. Smith. "We're stuck with the highway commercial designation."

Mr. Gibbon then recalled that the designation had arisen from "a neighbourhood garage." He suggested that the city buy out the company and develop it for eight single family residences, and pointed out the company could choose this course of action.

At this point, the subject of the resident's notification of the development arose, and several residents said they were not informed by letter of the proposal. Mr. Byron said he would investigate the matter.

Further representations were made to council by residents Gordon Beckwith and Ken Bryskow. Mr. Bryskow said he had been "battling this for the last 14 years."

"I've taken this up with Fowler, Gibbon, that other one, and the present one. I hope this council can take over the property," said Mr. Bryskow.

A representative of Harich Holdings, which manages the shopping centre at Grosvenor and Granite said her tenants were concerned about the competition from the proposed shopping centre. She asks that the same restrictive covenant apply to the Venture shopping centre as to the Harich Holdings project. (Such as 10 p.m. closing).

Another resident, Rose Brown, suggested that the city trade off some of its commercially zoned downtown property for the Grandin Road site.

Ald. Rod Thronson moved that the bylaw to amend the zoning from C3 to C1 be tabled for one month, to allow investigation of the single family dwelling proposal, the land swap proposal, and the question of the service road which gives access to the area. The motion carried.

soccer pitches.

The directors of the Hercules Sports Association soccer program met last week to discuss a new organizational set up (see story page 31) and the matter of animal control came up.

The coaches and directors, who look after a total registration of 850 soccer players, are concerned that gopher holes in the pitch at St. Albert High may result in serious injuries. They are also somewhat less than jubilant about the amount of dog excrement that players must slip and slide through while engaged in a game.

The School Boards are reacting to the problem and St. Albert's largest sports organization appears to be getting into the fray. All indications would lead to the s... hitting the city's fan in the near future.

go-ahead

related to students not caring about their environment. He said, "I think kids have been permitted to not care."

He pointed out that the educational aspects of vandalism control were key to the whole question and would have to coincide with the incentive program. Most important of these would be a district-wide educational program directed towards the students and public.

Trustee Fries asked Superintendent Elmer Gish if instituting such a program in the curriculum would be feasible. Mr. Gish replied that it would take some thought and no doubt pose some difficulties but it would be interesting to try.

He said he didn't think teachers could preach the curbing of vandalism to students but would have to use more subtle means -- i.e. films and TV. He would look at other school systems for ideas and would probably start the program at the kindergarten level and carry it through from there. A program couldn't be instituted immediately or quickly but it could be initiated.

Mr. Prather added that vandalism has to be made socially unacceptable. Unfortunately in some segments of society it is acceptable.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS OF VANDALISM RECOMMENDATIONS

Board members also looked at eight recommendations on vandalism in addition to the Incentive Program and the curriculum change mentioned above.

They approved in principle that the Board take steps to inform and involve the community in efforts to bring the problem under control.

Board members felt the preventive approach was the best choice because of the prohibitive cost involved policing the situation. Trustee Wes Penner said studies showed a positive correlation between the climate in the school and the amount of vandalism in that school.

Trustee Fries pointed out that the RCMP were now using preventative approaches in programs like 'Lady Beware' in a more effective and less costly attack on the rape problem which could serve as a useful analogy to the vandalism problem.

Members also agreed with a recommendation to repair damage to district property as soon as possible to avoid the cases in which some damage seems to invite more of the same.

Trustee Shirley McCaffery opposed this action because she felt the cost would be prohibitive if such a policy were applied to a case like the exterior walls of Paul Kane High School which have been favorite collectors of graffiti. The high school is now in its third painting.

Mr. Prather stuck to his original argument, however, saying that research has proven unrepaired acts of vandalism lead to more vandalism. He added that Paul Kane was not the centre of vandalism in the district which seemed to imply he felt the high school would not receive an excess of abuse.

The other Board members, although concerned about the possible costs, approved the idea in principle. Trustee McCaffery remained opposed.

A recommendation that the feasibility of employing daytime custodians with maintenance responsibilities brought out concerns of CUPE ramifications and additional costs in terms of manpower. Trustee Penner felt it went against the other recommendations by removing student responsibility at the same time the Board was hoping to instill a greater feeling of responsibility in students. Shirley McCaffery didn't like the idea that custodians would also be supervisors to which Assistant Superintendent Prather replied that the intent was not to put custodians in supervisory roles. With Trustee Penner in opposition the Board agreed to look further into the recommendation.

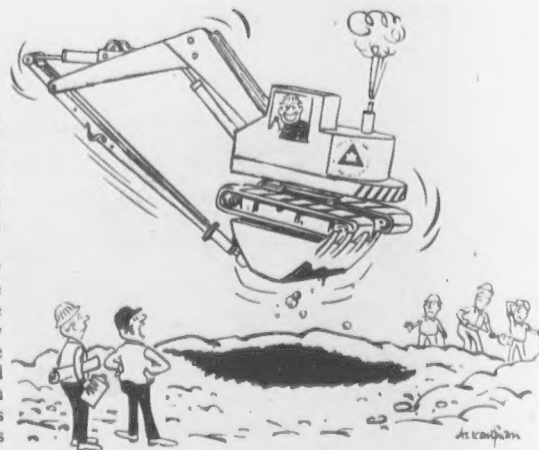

Members decided to make sure both the Board and administration look closely at designs for new schools with an eye to reducing vandalism. Architects will be given specific problem areas to solve.

Trustees also voted to give consideration to equipping schools with adequate security lighting of a 'vandal-proof nature' and internal security gates.

The security gates are aimed mainly at problems which may arise through joint use. Schools open to the public are also open to vandals who may hide in the building until the users have left the building. Security gates would prevent access to parts of the school not needed for Joint Use.

A little more flexibility will be given to the administration when purchasing equipment in the future. From now on there will be more accent on durability without being bound to the lower tender.

The Board requested the administration to bring specific proposals on the replacement of glass with less breakable substitutes at the next regular meeting. The request came following the Board's defeat of a recommendation to install poly-carbonate substitutes in high risk areas. Members felt the poly-carbonate was too expensive, not breakable and that there were better suited substitutes.

A review will also be made of existing security measures. The Board's Building and Sites Committee has been looking at surveillance equipment and is waiting for additional information on Edmonton Public experiment with different models. This is expected soon and Committee Chairman Fries says the Board will be able to look more closely at these measures by late summer or early fall.

Charges laid in show home break-in

Charges have been laid against three St. Albert young men in connection with the break-in of a Qualico Show Home on Arlington Crescent.

RCMP from St. Albert caught the three men Douglas Bruce Polkosnick, 18, Mark Nicholas Stathis, 19, and Lloyd Dereniuk, also 19 while they were in the show home early Sunday morning, April 9.

RCMP said they had recovered several hundred dollar worth of property in connection with the break-in involving a number of others in show homes in St. Albert.

Police found that a vehicle said to be operated by those charged had what were described as stolen articles in it. It was located near the place of the arrest. The three men will appear in court May 17 in connection with the charges.

A Spruce Grove man, 17 year old Wayne Gerald Durand will appear in court in St. Albert May 10 in connection with a charge of the theft of a motorcycle. RCMP stated the bike was ready for transportation home, but a routine check by "Mr. Jamison is simply putting forth his own ideas," said Mr. Breadner.

Mr. Breadner's opinions drew a sharp response from Ald. Roger Ayotte. "This has nothing to do with the Woodlands project," he protested. However, Mr. Breadner prevailed, and went on to complete his remarks.

RCMP "thwarted" Durand's movements.

Twenty-nine year old Guy Orville Boal was charged with impaired driving April 13, driving as an impaired driver and damaging the inside of a police car in which he was travelling. He is set to appear in court April 20.

Eighteen year old William Paul Arnott of St. Albert has been charged with possession of a narcotic following an incident early in the morning April 11 when Arnott was found by the St. Albert police.

Two other St. Albert men have been charged with driving offences.

They are 25 year old Clifford Gulseth and 27 year old Marcel John Lacasse.

RCMP remind all St. Albert residents that left turns at the intersection of Hebert and Gervais Road and the St. Albert Trail are causing difficulties and violators will be prosecuted.

RCMP remind the driving public, pedestrians and cyclists to use caution now that outdoor activities are increasing in parks and playgrounds.

Students available to do spring cleaning

Those who feel depressed at the mere thought of spring clean-ups will be delighted at a recent announcement from the student body at Lorne Akins School.

To raise money for various school projects, the students will be holding a Work Weekend on April 22, and will hire themselves out to residents at a small charge. For two dollars an hour, the students will rake, mow lawns, do windows and handle other spring cleaning chores. And that two dollars covers a lot of labour. No matter how many students come to take on the job, the charge remains at two dollars per hour.

Anyone wanting to take advantage of this service can do so by phoning 458-0683 or 458-6433. Please call before Friday.

ST. ALBERT

Mayor Harvey took control of a bulldozer Friday to officially mark the opening of Riel Business Park. The Park is located west of Pro-Western Plastics of Riel Drive and should be serviced and be ready by early summer. Ivan Govin of North American Road is on the machine with Mayor Harvey. Also on hand to mark the occasion were Fred Anderson, General manager, and Jack Staseson, President, of Jason Development Corp. Ltd., the company developing the park. The area is slated for light industrial and business uses.

Playground society signs agreement with District 3

The Mission Park Playground Society of St. Albert has signed a development agreement with St. Albert School District No. 3 for the construction of a tire playground on the northeast corner of the Father Jan School lot. We would like to thank the School District for its assistance and donation of $500. Progress has been very rapid lately with much of the material collected and ordered. We are on target for our construction day on June 3, 1978.

Father Jan School students are presently conducting a spell-a-thon to assist us in raising money to build the tire playground and upgrade some existing playground equipment. Students from grades one to five are soliciting sponsors for donations based on the number of words they spell correctly on a spelling review test. Hopefully the eagerness of the students is not too frustrating to residents being approached by several young people. They are looking forward to the playground and want to take part in their own way to see that it is completed.

Anyone in the Mission Park area who is willing to work for ONE DAY on June 3, 1978 on playground construction is asked to telephone 458-0009 or 458-1498.

Musicians nominated for Provincials

Ron Kinney of the Kiwanis St. Albert Music Festival committee has announced nominations coming out of the festival for the Provincial Competitions being held this year in Calgary on June 3.

Nominated in the piano section were Shauna Hite, Carmen Corbett and Virginia Gale. From the Vocal section Shelley Buma and Nelda Schulte were nominated and the Albert Lacombe School Choir also received a nomination.

Nomination privileges come through the Alberta Music Festival Association, of which the St. Albert Kiwanis Club is a member, but Mr. Kinney emphasized that it is the adjudicators who select the musicians. Nominees must meet extremely high standards, said Mr. Kinney, as the adjudicators are not prepared to nominate entries who do not stand a good chance in the Provincials.

The Kiwanis then prepare the entry forms and get them to the nominees and all six are planning to attend.

A member of the Festival

Association must have one festival completed before it is eligible to accept nominations, and this year's festival was the Kiwanis' second in St. Albert.

Community band awarded top prize

"I believe that this is what it is all about." With these words, Dr. George Naylor began his adjudication of the St. Albert Community Band at the recent Kiwanis Music Festival.

"Community Bands, community music, and community music-making, is an awful lot better than Archie Bunker - it doesn't matter what it sounds like as long as we're doing something, not just sitting around passively." Dr. Naylor went on emphasizing the importance of the Band to the community, a place where both the old and the young can come together and everyone in the group is both a contributor and a recipient of the benefits. He concluded his introductory comments by appealing to both the Band members themselves and the audience to tell others about the group, to get them to join the ranks and show their community involvement, for the Band is "where to do things and at the same time get something out of it."

After his introductory comments, Dr. Naylor proceeded to comment on the Band's two test pieces: "Irish Holiday" and "Selections from the Man of La Mancha." He awarded the top Band award to this group, the second year in a row that the Community Band was victorious.

The St. Albert Community Band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Heuermann, consists of 45 musicians, many of whom are products of the school band programs in St. Albert. The adult membership forms about half this total, and Band officials still welcome new musicians to the ranks.

Jointly financed by the City of St. Albert, the Breakfast Lions' Club of St. Albert, Synapse Consultants, and a small tuition fee, the Community Band rehearses Tuesday evenings at Sir George Simpson Music Room. The Band will operate until the first week of June, and interested musicians who may still wish to join are urged to telephone 458-6396 or 459-7384. A spring concert and one or two open-air concerts are planned for May, so the Band will be kept busy with the end of the season.

To echo Dr. Naylor's comments, Band officials encourage your support. Join the Band now for fun and enjoyment, and yet at the same time support the community of St. Albert.

Got a gripe?

Parents of school children sometimes have opinions, positive or otherwise that they would like to relate to their local school board. These problems more often than not relate to staff and the location of their child's place of learning. Parents who have these concerns about either staffing or student housing proposals for 1978-79 are invited to a committee meeting of the District 3 school board in Bertha Kennedy School at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, April 24 (see ad page 5).

Information on the proposals for the coming year is available at the Central office at 6 St. Vital Avenue.

Radio station prepares to take to the air

BOB RUSSELL

There are a lot of smiling faces around St. Albert Broadcasting Ltd. this week -- and with good cause. After five years of hearings, presentation and persuasion, the company has been granted its broadcasting licence by the Canadian Radio and Television Commission. The licence gives St. Albert Broadcasting the go-ahead to operate a radio station in St. Albert. For local businessman Bob Russell, it means the birth of his long-awaited brainchild. For residents of St. Albert, it means we finally get to ride the airwaves.

Now that all systems are go, a furor of well-organized activity has erupted. Dick Mather, who will manage the new station, is already busy with the intricate preparations necessary in starting up the operation. Equipment for the transmitter must be phased, tuned and matched, which is a time consuming process. However, when he looks back on the struggles of the past five years, Dick Mather laughingly remarks that the subsequent work seems "almost anticlimactic" in comparison.

The new station will operate at 1070 kilocycles with a power of 10,000 watts. The flow of news, views and music will emanate from the St. Albert station 24 hours a day. One of the decisions yet to be finalized concerns the stations call letters, or airwave name. Only certain letters remain unused by other stations, so some obvious choices such as CKSA (for St. Albert) are unavailable.

DICK MATHER

The company's transmitter site, located on crown lands south of Edmonton, is ready for construction, as the lease has been held open by the provincial government since the company's first CRTC application. Mr. Mather estimates there is about four months of work to be done on the transmitter, and is aiming for a premiere broadcast sometime in November. Prior to that date, there will be some on-air testing to ensure high quality that the company feels is essential in their highly competitive situation.

And as Dick Mather says the situation here is both competitive and unique. The company is creating a station from nothing, giving it an unusual opportunity to do it right the first time. Mr. Mather points out that financial limitations do not permit lavish expenditures, but will tend to stimulate creative solutions. The company hopes to purchase mainly new equipment; to eliminate technical snafus.

As for staff, the station's particular situation requires that personnel be flexible and able to handle a number of broadcasting chores. Mr. Mather points out that the station's proximity to Edmonton demands a high standard, as it will compete with bigger operations. However, St. Albert Broadcasting says it is committed to longevity in the city of St. Albert. Mr. Mather dropped some tantalizing hints that there were some "surprising" applications amongst the number that have poured into the company's mailbox.

SOMETHING FOR ANYONE

The new station will program its material for a broad based appeal. In the evenings from 7 - 9 p.m., programming will be geared to youth. The company hopes that local youngsters will get directly involved in the production of the news, sports and talk segments of that time slot. He emphasizes that the kids musical selections won't be censored. In addition to this pop/rock selection, the station will play easy-listening, middle-of-the-road music, seasoned with country and western. Live church services will be broadcast on Sunday mornings, with infusions of toe-tapping gospel sounds. The bi-cultural nature of the community will be overlooked either. From 1 - 2 p.m., a program of French language instruction is planned.

The station will be on deck with coverage of local news events. Because of the commuter nature of the listening populace, no news will be broadcast between 9 and noon and 1 - 4 p.m. However, a unique approach is planned for council coverage, involving as-it-happens news clips. School boards will be covered by the use of stringers, and it is hoped that an on-the-job training program can be established with the schools. Packages of community information will be broadcast, particularly on weekends. Mr. Mather acknowledges that radio often slacks off on weekends -- a tradition the new station intends to break.

Sports fans will be glad to know that play-by-play descriptions of Saints games will be broadcast, and that the station plans to follow local sports as far afield as possible, working closely with minor sports people.

The station will have a permanent initial staff of about 20, plus permanent part-timers, stringers and contacts. No site for the studio has yet been selected, but the St. Albert Inn area is being considered.

Bob Russell, Dick Mather and the rest of the company are "ready to hit the ground running" with their new station. St. Albert will be waiting with open ears.

Dist. 3 caretakers win pay complaints

Twelve equal pay complaints filed with the Alberta Human Rights Commission by part-time employees of St. Albert Protestant Separate School Board have resulted in a settlement totalling $17,097.88.

The women, all members of CUPE Local 1099 are employed by the School Board as part-time caretakers. They filed complaints with the Commission in the Fall of 1977 alleging a violation of the equal pay provisions of The Individual's Rights Protection Act. Eleven also filed complaints of sex discrimination.

The complaints were filed with the Commission as a result of an Anti-Inflation Board decision in June, 1977. In disallowing a proposed equalization of pay rates between the part-time and full-time caretakers, the AIB claimed sex discrimination was not a factor in the differing pay scale. The proposal was part of a Memorandum of Agreement signed by the Union and the School Board in February of 1977.

BOARD SUPPORTED CLAIM

Human Rights Officers Carol Toutant's investigation of the cases substantiated the women's claim that the positions were substantially similar and that the effect of the pay rate differential was discriminatory. The School Board, which also supported the women in their claim, requested the A.I.B. to re-consider its decision in light of the Commission's findings. After its review of the case the A.I.B. agreed to allow the increase for equalization.

As a result of the settlement, the school district paid retroactive wages to 32 persons who had been employed as part-time caretakers during 1977. The 12 complainants received $12,482.68 of the total amount. Individual amounts ranged from $357.15 to $1,782.86.

In closing the cases, Ms. Toutant commended the School Board for their support of the female caretakers and also for their co-operation in settling the matter.

St. Albert history rich in detail

Did you know that a 30 foot excursion boat, operated by Fleury Perron, father of Eugene Perron, plied the Sturgeon River in 1912?

... that the 1900 financial statement for St. Albert village consisted of $20 in receipts and $4.25 in expenditures?

... that the site of St. Albert even in 1861 was already a well known settlement known as Big Lake?

... that a public meeting in St. Albert in 1882 that sent a delegation to Ottawa to protest, successfully, the federal land survey, averted extension of the Riel Rebellion here?

These facts in more detail were related by Mrs. Wilf Borgstede, Heritage Officer for St. Albert Historical Society, to a small but interested audience at Akinsdale Clubhouse Monday evening.

Mrs. Borgstede obtained her information partly from interviews with older residents, from the former Edmonton Bulletin, from provincial and Oblate archives. She noted that more interviews and more research are still to be done.

Mrs. Borgstede also noted that the Historical Society would be grateful for a photograph of the late excursion boat, the St. Theresa.

SPINNING AND NATURE DYEING WORKSHOP

St. Albert to challenge water rate increases

At Monday night's regular meeting of council, a motion to apply to the Public Utilities Board to challenge the City of Edmonton's water rate price hike was carried unanimously. The price hike became effective on January 1st, 1978.

Council gave first, second and third readings to two bylaws to cancel debentures and issue two new debentures for lesser amounts. The first debenture was issued to pay for downtown land. City Administrator Bob Byron said that "if we don't reduce it, we will reduce the city's capacity to incur more debt." The other debenture was issued for the purpose of construction of local improvements in the Forest Lawn area.

Council approved two grants to community organizations. The first will give $1,500 to four playground committees, including Vital Grandin, Father Jan, Bertha Kennedy and Albert La-combe Schools. Members of council had words of praise for the Vital Grandin Committee who had been given a $2,000 grant but who were asked to return $500 of that grant, to allow for the $1,500 grant to all four groups. The committee complied. The St. Albert Field Hockey team was given a grant of $250.

Council received as correspondence a letter from the St. Albert Saints asking that they be charged a flat rate of $100 per day for their use of the Akinsdale arena for their Spring Training Camp. At the existing rates, the two-day camp would cost $560. The team says that it's request arises from the fact it ran a first year deficit of $9,000.

Council also received a letter from the Sturgeon General Hospital requesting a meeting with council in regard to the status of paramedics in the hospital. Ald. Rod Thronson told council that the legal status of paramedics in Alberta hospitals has not been established. The matter is not laid out in legislation, and the hospital wants to get the maximum use of the paramedic team. Mr. Thronson moved the matter referred to the council's representatives on the hospital board for an investigation and report. The motion carried.

Jive makes comeback at community hall

Jive and jitterbug experts take heart! Your time has come! After a decade of soulless, individual wriggling the jive has been re-instated under the Disco regime. St. Albert jive fanatics will have a chance to strut their stuff for the good of the community when the Larose Community Playground Committee throws its Jean Jive bash at the Community Hall on Saturday, April 22. The fleetest feet will benefit as a passel of prizes have been assembled, courtesy of St. Albert's generous business community. The prizes will be awarded to winners of the jive contest.

Jiving can be exhausting, and partygoers can take time out from their high-flying activities to down some refreshments and make the most of the chicken dinner. The music will be non-stop, with the popular Steve Anthony spinning the discs.

Tickets for the whole evening are only $6 and won't last long. Get them from Bertha Kennedy School, Pat at 458-2606, Sally at 459-7314, Joyce at 458-2101 or Leslie at 458-3227.

Ex-paratrooper gets Jubilee Medal

One of St. Albert's greatest natural resources must lie in the dedication of its citizens. This fact has been made apparent by the presentation of Queen's Jubilee Medals to a number of our citizens. One modest recipient is Sgt. H. M. Allan, MMM., CD., Ret'd., who resides at 59 Grandora Crescent. The medal was awarded in appreciation of Sgt. Allan's 30 years in the armed forces as a paratrooper and parachute instructor. Sgt. Allan was in the service from 1944 to 1974, and now lives with his wife, son and two daughters.

Albert Lesberg stands with Pauline Vaugeois beside a truck filled with goods collected for the Frog Lake Mission. A collection day will be held later in the season.

Citizen of the Year collecting for missions

Pauline Vaugeois, St. Albert's Citizen of the Year is a very busy person. She has many accomplishments to her credit, especially her devotion to young people through her work with the Girl Guides with the able help of Evelyn Fraser of Gibbons.

Now Pauline and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Vaugeois have become involved in collecting used articles; furniture, clothing to send to a mission in Northeast Alberta. Father Beaupre, missionary at Frog Lake has been most happy to fill his Travelall several times with goods collected. Last week Albert Lesberg was able to fill his three ton truck at the Vaugeois residence and deliver it to Father's mission where it is most appreciated. Any articles not used there, are sent on to missions further north.

Plans are being made for a collection day later in the season.

Anyone wishing to donate to this worthy cause can watch for an announcement in the Gazette.

Irate over busing

The following letter was sent to the principal at Lorne Akins with copies to the School Board, Gazette and City Hall. The meeting referred to in the opening sentence is being held tonight at 7:30 in Lorne Akins to inform parents in Akinsdale of the implications of District 6's housing policy.

References: A. LAJHS Newsletter dated April 6, 1978.

B. The Gazette dated April 12, 1978.

Dear Sir:

Please be advised that I will not be able to be present at the meeting on April 19. I would however, like to present my objections to the transfer of students as dictated in References A. and B.

In 1974 we purchased a home in Akinsdale. One of our prime reasons for buying in Akinsdale was easy access to schools -- elementary, junior high and senior high. While we did accept the fact that these schools were approximately one-half to three-quarters of a mile away, it was understood that an elementary school would be built in Akinsdale in a couple of years. This has obviously not happened, however it is still a point of concern.

In the past four school years my daughter has attended three different schools. One change was due to her advancing into Junior High grades but, an arbitrary decision made in 1975 by the Schools/School Board to transfer the majority of the AKINSDALE students from Leo Nickerson School to Sir Alexander Mackenzie School accounted for another change. Now it appears that another arbitrary decision has been made to shuffle the AKINSDALE children again. WHY ARE THE AKINSDALE RESIDENTS GETTING THE BIG STICK? From what I have read and heard, not only are the AKINSDALE Junior High students going to have to attend school in Lacombe Park but, whether or not these students have used the school bus in the past, they will now be required to use the bus -- and pay an increased fee for the privilege of doing so. A further point of concern is a hidden story contained on page 3 of Reference B. where bids for "eight portable classrooms at W.D. Cuts School" have been accepted. ARE THESE THE CLASSROOMS FOR THE AKINSDALE STUDENTS?

Although we presently have no idea what the school hours will be at W.D. Cuts School, if we use the same hours as are now in effect at Lorne Akins School, I estimate that the AKINSDALE children will have to leave home between 7:30 - 7:45 a.m. and will not get home until near 4 p.m. (I would like to point out that my daughter has not used the bus to attend Lorne Akins School and she frequently comes home for lunch even in the winter).

All of the foregoing is only preliminary. My main complaints are as follows:

1. The decision to relocate AKINSDALE students was made by the School/School Board with no discussion with the parents of the students involved;

2. A meeting with concerned parents held after the decision has been made public will accomplish absolutely nothing other than making the School/School Board feel that they have done their duty;

3. A student meeting of the students involved is a "back-door" approach and amounts to not much more than brain-washing. Pitting students wishes against parent wishes is no way to gain the respect of either;

4. It is not the function of the school to advise the parents of changes such as this. If the School Board cannot advise the families concerned, why do we have an elected Board? Further, any announcements to the Press should be made after the meeting with the parents and a "joint" or unanimous release made at that time;

5. Why have some students known about this move for approximately three to four weeks while others found out about it the day they took the newsletter home? and

6. Why are we being forced not only to send our children to a school some four miles away, (against our wishes), and, because of it, being forced to pay $40 for the privilege?

In conclusion, may I say that in a dictatorship, things like this would likely be accepted without question. However, Canada is lauded as a Democracy and its residents have "rights." I expect these rights but hope that I will not have to move to another community (country) to find them.

M. O. Hengen, Akinsdale.

Students question censorship

We are a group of five students representing the Grade 9 student body of Lorne Akins Junior High School, St. Albert.

We would like to present a problem which is of some concern to us.

We have recently finished reading the novel, Bless the Beasts and Children, by Glendon Swarthout. This text is recommended and approved by the Department of Education for study at the Grade 9 level.

To further our studies we wish to view the movie of the same title. This movie has not only been on television, but it was also presented to the Grade 9 students at Lorne Akins during the 1975/76 and 1976/77 school years.

After consulting with the Provincial Board of Censors, we became aware of the fact that this film is rated "Adult," permissible only to persons 16 and over or those accompanied by an adult. However, the spokesman for this department indicated to us that should we show the film within the school and there were no ensuing parental complaints, no action would be taken.

The problem is this: Why should students have to view, "on the sly," a movie, which complements their studies? Viewing the movie in this manner is "technically illegal"; thus forcing us to see the movie illegally or not at all.

As well as these facts, we also have some further questions. Should not the Department of Education work more closely with the Provincial Board of Censors? Also, is it not about time that the Provincial Board of Censors for Alberta reassessed their standards and criteria for rating movies as well as revamp their existing evaluations?

We feel these are valid concerns and hope they will not pass by unnoticed.

Daryl Harrington, Steve Camp,
Trent Parayko,
Scott Hagen,
Terry Parkin.

Bert Labuick commended

Dear Bert:

I recently noted a picture in the "Gazette" a while back of you being presented a trophy by Mr. Lorne Ross, president of the St. Albert Minor League Baseball Association. The caption was a somewhat abbreviated one and did not fully clarify whether or not the award was that of "Sportsman of the Year." I hope it was. Nevertheless, public recognition is long overdue and I was extremely gratified that your contribution on behalf of the baseball community of St. Albert was finally recognized.

I take this opportunity to commend you on behalf of all sportsmen in St. Albert and wish to personally thank you for your support, dedication and conscientious approach to civic responsibility and minor league baseball during my tenure as President of

S.A.M.B.A.

Unfortunately it is a fact that a large number of consistently involved parents are often "unsung heroes." May I assure you that a good number of minor leaguers who have had the good fortune to benefit from your generosity, enthusiasm and energy during their formative years will always feel indebted to you.

Congratulations "Mr. Bert Labuick." Best wishes, good luck and many more opening days of "Play Ball" in the seasons ahead.

Robert F. Burns,
San Jose, B.C.

(Mr. LaBuick was awarded the St. Albert Minor Baseball Association trophy, presented annually for sportsmanship, as selected by a general meeting of the Association).

No partnership intended!

It has been brought to my attention that some members of a few St. Albert service clubs were offended by my including their club name and meeting date in a recent advertisement in your paper.

In publicizing the St. Albert meetings which I plan to attend in the near future, I can assure you that absolutely no inference was meant that any one of these organizations are supporting a particular political party. In fact, I would imagine such clubs have many political affiliations represented in their membership. It was not my intention to imply partisan overtones and I regret very much if anyone has interpreted it in that way.

Peter Elzinga, M.P., Pembina.

District 6 students get day off

All students from Kindergarten to Grade 12 in the Protestant School Division will undoubtedly be happy to note that classes will not be held on Friday, April 21. Teachers in the Division will be attending Professional Development seminars, so classes for the day are cancelled. Schools and kindergartens will be back in session Monday, April 24.

Think small

by Jim Smith

Little Things

It's the little things that grind you down.

Canada Customs is a little thing. Once upon a time, virtually all federal revenues came from customs and excise taxes. (In 1918, the government discovered another type of tax which it called income tax and things haven't been the same since. But we digress...)

Most Canadians don't have anything to do with the folks at Canada Customs except when they travel outside the country. Once in a while, a friend or relative abroad might send a parcel through and you have to explain the story to the customs inspector, but that's a pretty exceptional event in a normal life.

There are people who do have to deal with Canada Customs on a fairly regular basis, however. These people are called businessmen (and/or businesswomen, pick one) and you can identify them by their grey hair, baggy eyes and downturned lips. There's something about Canada Customs that drives the public to early graves.

A true case history should prove enlightening for those fortunate souls who never deal with Customs. It concerns a Canadian firm obliged to import a unique electric piano from the United States when the official Canadian distributor decided that the domestic market did not warrant bringing stock into the country.

At the border, the piano was intercepted and held until a substantial security bond had been placed with Customs. The firm was instructed to contact the Customs branch in its home town.

After considerable negotiating, the firm was finally able to negotiate an appraisal which was more reasonable than the assessment levied at the border. Interestingly,

Customs refused to accept invoices and cancelled cheques as evidence of the true sales price in the United States and, therefore, the taxable worth. Instead, a higher value was assigned to the instrument, a position which gives rise to considerable doubt about many items in our daily lives.

Worn to a frazzle, the firm's agent produced his cheque book to pay the duty. But wait! One cannot pay a Customs bill by ordinary cheque. Payment must be made by certified cheque, money order or cash. The agent was forced to visit the firm's bank, then return to the Customs office.

Bear in mind that the piano, during these transactions, was in Canada and in use; what, then, would Customs have lost by accepting a personal cheque? The federal government, after all, is not without powers to collect on bad debts.

Oh yes, remember that deposit paid at the border? The firm was not allowed to pay the difference between the assessed duty and the security deposit. Rather, it was required to pay the entire bill, then wait for a refund by mail.

Customs isn't alone in its insistence on being paid by cash, certified cheque or money order; many other government departments have similar requirements.

It's all very one-sided, of course, and not terribly fair to the individuals or firms who must deal with Canada Customs. Would it be too much to ask that government should review its regulations and make life a little easier for the public?

"Think small" is an editorial message from the Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

construct a 149 Street and 156 Street link. Mr. Shields quoted the Grimble Transportation study to back-up his views. He interpreted the study as saying that the marketability of the Campbell Industrial Park was contingent on the transportation link.

"We can't live on dreams that the creation of residential pressure will force Alberta Transportation to build roads."

Ald. Rod Thronsdon disagreed with this statement, saying that development had almost always preceded the construction of roads in Alberta.

SOCIAL SERVICES CONCERN SHIELDS

Mr. Shields also expressed disagreement with the view that development would improve the tax base. He stated that if Woodlands was developed "too fast," the result would be "horrendous traffic problems," a shortage of Preventive Social Services and problems with policing.

Ald. Margaret Smith stated she would prefer to go ahead with the Woodlands concept. She suggested that the developer be asked to join the city in encouraging the province to fund the 149 and 156 Street links.

In supporting the bylaw, Ald. Ayotte pointed out that the 2,226 population would not "appear tomorrow," and asserted that "holding up the developer won't press the province to build the road." He gave a different interpretation of the Grimble report, quoting it as saying the first phase of development of Woodlands could be accommodated without the 149 Street-156 Street link. In closing, he stressed the need for more lots in the city.

In explaining his decision not to support the bylaw, Ald. Breadner said there were "pros and cons" to be considered. He said the city needed additional assessment and should assume its share of responsibility for growth in the metropolitan region. He also indicated the proposed development was an "acceptable" one. However, Mr. Breadner said there should be adequate services available before the city accepts growth. He expressed concern about the lack of transportation links (see story this page).

Ald. Thronsdon said he would support the bylaw although he expressed concern about transportation.

"I hope the province will get off its big fat Heritage Trust Fund," said Mr. Thronsdon.

LINKS HOLD NO MAGIC

Mrs. Bakker stated her opinion that the 149-156 Street links would provide "no magical solution" to the problem, as "people will still turn left as soon as they hit the highway."

"It will only move the congestion," she commented.

Mrs. Bakker supported the bylaw, as did Mayor Ronald Harvey. The mayor commented that the effort to get the transportation link must be achieved by working through the transportation task force.

"We can't go over their heads to Dr. Horner," the mayor said. Ald. Breadner had suggested this course of action earlier in the meeting.

Third reading of the bylaw will be given on Monday, May 1st.

Nutrition to be added to curriculum in Catholic School District

The Catholic School Board voted to spend $1200 toward developing a nutrition program in grades K-9.

The money will go for paying substitutes needed to replace regular teachers who will be attending workshops set up to prepare the program for implementation in the 1978-79 school year.

Trustee Jerry Manegre, asked the administration whether the teachers had been asked to set the workshops for the weekends or out of school hours. He felt that if they would do so the board could save $1200 and spend it on other educational needs in the district.

But the other members of the board didn't feel the teachers should be burdened with the extra workload out of hours and that a $1200 price tag was a bargain in curriculum development.

The board, in accepting the Nutrition Program, has backed a long-standing concern of parents, educators and health workers that nutrition should be of a high priority.

The consequences of poor nutrition have significant effects on the ability of students to learn as they tire early and are unable to concentrate. Children may become ill and miss school or suffer emotional problems because of a weight problem. Studies have shown that good nutrition habits are learned not innate. This places a responsibility on those who can teach others healthy habits to do so.

The first workshop is set for Thursday and Friday of next week (April 20 and 21). It will discuss the program for K-3. On May 11 and 12 the 4-6 program will be looked at and the Junior High workshop will follow on the 19th of May.

Our omission!

In last week's account of the winners of the Edmonton Regional Science Fair, we omitted to name two of the local winners, Bobby Smilnich, a student in Grade 5 at Robert Rundle School, won the Dr. E. H. Gowan Award for physics.

Sir Alexander Mackenzie Grade 6 student, Laurel Coulter was runner-up for the Dow Chemical Energy Conservation trophy. Laurel's project on solar collector efficiency received honourable mention.

Local dancers do well in exams

The St. Albert School of Dancing was a hive of activity over the two weeks ending Saturday, as 234 students took exams in Ballet, Tap and Jazz.

Thirty dancers got Honours, 42 Highly Commended, 78 Commended, 60 Pass Plus and 23 Pass.

Six teen-age girls took their first professional examination in modern dance. Rhonda Rumpel was Commended and Joanne Smith, Liane Lynch, Doris Wutzke, Lynn Fontaine and Julie Rumpel all received Honours marks.

The examiners were Betty

Laine and June Rycroft from London, England, who are on a North American tour doing judging. Betty runs a professional school training people for the stage and has one student presently performing in "Annie" in London.

Sun shines at chamber meeting

The Sun shone on the regular meeting of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce at the St. Albert Inn, April 12.

Edmonton's new morning daily and Sunday paper's Director of Advertising Bill Hunter was at the meeting, which was attended by about 30 members and guests.

At the end of Mr. Hunter's well received talk about the rise of the Edmonton Sun, Chamber member Harry Hutchings said he'd attended many Chamber talks and he couldn't recall one as dynamic as the one Mr. Hunter had given. He also mentioned he'd seen a few editions of Edmonton's new daily and "it looks like a fantastic paper."

Mr. Hunter, founder of the Edmonton Oilers and manager of Team Canada in 1974, told the St. Albert Chamber it played a significant part in the community, even though it had struggled with membership from between two to five at times. He told the Chamber that he and his wife loved to drive out to St. Albert on Sundays and told the Chamber "to keep up the good work."

He said that 1978 would prove to be a remarkable year in Edmonton's history, an honour which the city might be guilty of taking too lightly. He was referring to the upcoming Commonwealth Games in Edmonton, which he pointed out would be representing Canada across the world on international television.

He said there'd never been such a great opportunity to portray the dynamic Edmonton area and referring to the St. Albert Chamber added, "I'm sure you will have plans how you will portray St. Albert in the Commonwealth Games."

Turning to the Sun he said "We respect our honour of being able to bring Edmonton's first daily morning paper."

He wanted the Sun to "sell a picture of our area - we are going to project prosperity, happiness and sunshine."

Mr. Hunter said the Sun had "many many subscribers... in St. Albert already," also that "by the year 2,000 all Canadian papers could be tabloid."

Referring to the Toronto Sun, of which the Edmonton Sun is an offshoot, Mr. Hunter said it was a powerful, positive and very successful paper, for which everyone had predicted doom. "Lord Thomson and Pierre Berton predicted they'd never make it." But "the people love it," he added.

Advantages of the morning Sun were that it had the news bright and fresh and that "Breakfast time is the time people take to get informed for the day ahead." Eight hundred "Sunshiners," local youngsters were delivering the Sun to Edmonton residences and some copies were getting to the doors as early as 6:30 a.m. and no later than 8 a.m.

Mr. Hunter said the Sun has invested $5 million in a two storey building on 124 Street "two blocks away from where the Edmonton Journal bought property two years ago." The Sun's new plant should be ready for October 1, he added, with Goss offset equipment in place. The Sun is now run off by North Hill News.

Mr. Hunter stated: "We are not trying Edmonton, we are here to stay."

He had a dig at the Edmonton Journal about the tremendous changes there not long before the Sun was due to hit Edmonton streets. "What happened in all those years before they decided to change?"

With all the competition in the Edmonton area for newspapers, Mr. Hunter said the St. Albert paper, the Journal and the Sun would have to be better.

***

IN OTHER CHAMBER business, there was a letter from an English family, who may be coming over to tour Canada's national parks from June 1. They could be using St. Albert as a base. They expected St. Albert would only be a community of some "3,000 souls" and that the "folk" would have to go to Edmonton every weekend to buy their goods. The letter pointed out that the St. Albert information brochure changed all that, when they read St. Albert was an independent community of 25,000. The English authors of the letter said they were particularly taken by the Sturgeon River, which they wanted to explore. The letter brought a round of applause from the Chamber.

Day care board faces problems in maintaining high standards

Financial problems confronting the St. Albert Day Care Society surfaced at the annual meeting held April 5. The Society operates the Day Care Centre and the "After Four" program at Ronald Harvey School.

Colleen Mead, director of Licensing for Alberta Social Services and Community Health, outlined one of the problems when she spoke to the meeting on the new provincial day care regulations which will be effective in July, 1978. Concern was expressed by several of those in attendance about the effect the new regulations will have on centres like the one in St. Albert where standards are much above the minimums set by the province. It appears that costs for above-standard day care may become excessive for most parents and the Society is uncertain of future consequences for its centre.

A further problem the Day Care Centre Board must face in the coming year was outlined by Director Cheryl Smart at the first Board meeting held April 10.

The 1978 Day Care budget has not been passed by City Council as submitted, and the result is that parents face a very substantial and immediate fee increase. The new Board, with an increase of many volunteers, both parents and others, will attempt to find alternatives to lower the fee increase and enable the centre to continue to provide excellent care which they feel has become a hallmark of the St. Albert centre.

The volunteer Board is convinced that the centre is one of, if not the finest examples of Day Care centres in Alberta. They feel it must not be allowed to slip to the level of what they feel are very minimal standards proposed by the Provincial Government. Board members are convinced that high quality day care must continue to be available to both middle-income and low-income families in St. Albert.

At the annual meeting Amy Olson welcomed new Day Care Board members Donna Lauder, Bernice Wenden, Shirley Bowles, Ann Manson, Lloyd Sereda, Bhuvana Visanathan, Frank Hanus and Stu McDonald. They will join the returning members on the Board to conduct the business of the Society. Returning are Amy Olson, Maureen Ferris, Diane Smith, Ron Berube, Donna Read, Janice Dalzell and Linda Gordon.

#533's Flight Training class had planned a cross-country flight for Saturday 15th of April, 1978. Instructor Don Kosman and cadets were to take off early AM, flying most of the day. Unfortunately once again, they were weathered in. We've not had much luck with Familiarization Flying this year due to weather problems, but, remain optimistic.

Mr. Kosman has been instructing at #533 RC(AIR)C for two years and has accumulated approximately 500 hours to his credit.

As our last Sports competition was such a success with #699 Squadron, they in return, have challenged us to volleyball, bordenball and basketball on our Tuesday night sports practice. They will also be retrieving their 'mascot' which was kidnapped last time around. Cadets at #533 look forward to the competition and results will be in next weeks issue of the Gazette.

Unfortunately, spectators cannot look on during these inter-squadron competitions, due to crowded facilities or limited transportation. We remind cadets at #533 to be at sports Tuesday for the inter-squad games, only if he or she is a member of the teams. Any cadet coming to "cheer" will, regretfully, have to be turned away.

Next week's band practice will be held Tuesday night at #12 Squadron instead of our regular Monday practice, as #533 Band and Colour Party have been invited to play at #12's Annual Inspection. We at #533 are looking forward to the event

PLAYGROUND REPORT

A major activity reported on by Janice Dalzell was the pre-school creative playground, which has been in the planning stages for the past year. This will be constructed in May to provide playground facilities both for the centre and, on weekends and holidays, for other children in the community. Since this is a part of town lacking adequate playgrounds, it is felt that the Day Care facility will be a welcome addition to the Fountain Park area.

Anyone interested in further information about the new day care regulations should contact the City of St. Albert.

SENIOR CITIZENS NEWS

Seniors (both ladies and gentlemen) are reminded of the choir practice which is held on Mondays at 1:15 p.m. New members are always welcome.

Tuesdays at 1:30 cards and bingo alternate, with bingo being played on April 25.

If you like to quilt, knit, or whatever, you have the opportunity of putting those talents to use. You can drop in at the Centre every Wednesday afternoon around 1:30 and spend an enjoyable afternoon visiting while working on a worthwhile project.

The Meals on Wheels program, besides providing a hot meal for a limited amount of people, always present an interesting program; it could be a film, slides or guest speaker. This week hopefully slides will be shown.

For those of you who do not know Ethel Cuts, come to the Centre and meet her. She will show you some marvelous exercises that will keep you fit and still having fun doing it. The recreational program starts about 12:30 p.m. Anyone who would be interested or would know of someone who would enjoy attending one of those weekly lunches on Thursday, please phone Jenny Allan at 458-0472 or Hettie Blades at 459-4756. They will be happy to supply you with more information regarding those lunches.

The annual meeting of the Senior Citizen's Club will be held on April 28 at 1:30 p.m. in the Senior Citizen Centre.

At that time, there will be election of officers and committee reps. In order for a club to function well there is always a need for leaders and volunteers. This club is no different, there is a definite need for leaders and volunteers. Don't be afraid to let your name stand for a committee or whatever.

Mr. Byron, city manager for the City of St. Albert will be the guest speaker. Why not make this meeting a real success by attending this very important meeting.

If any of you need transportation for that meeting phone Hettie Blades at

ALMOST NEW SHOP

The almost new shop is one of the projects of the Senior Citizen's Club and is open on the last Saturday of every month from 1 - 4 p.m. in the Centre (north of the curling rink). Saturday, April 29 is the next occasion when the shop will be open again.

Bernie Vaugeois is always looking for fresh stock, particularly children's wear and will be very pleased to accept clothing, footwear, used but in good condition and "clean." Indeed Bernie will accept almost anything so long as it is clean and useable. Contributions can be left at the Centre anytime it is open or phone Mrs. Vaugeois at 459-6273.

All proceeds of the shop go towards the operation of the club and its various activities.

HANDICAPPED ASSOCIATION

Anyone interested in finding out about the Association should phone Joe Nielsen, secretary to the Steering Committee at 458-5795.

BABYSITTING REGISTRY

The Babysitting Registry, started about a year ago by a group of enthusiastic ladies, is still going strong. They provide a much needed service to the community.

There are co-ordinators in each area (listed below) and each has a list of babysitters to whom they can refer anyone wanting the service during the day or evenings. They point out that their role is referral only and they are not responsible for either the conduct or the financial arrangements; these should be worked out between clients and the sitter.

They are now in need of two co-ordinators for the Grandin area.

Anyone interested in becoming a co-ordinator kindly phone Jean MacKenzie at 458-1240. At this point a big bouquet goes out to Mrs. LaBonte and Mrs. Wozniak for doing such a good job as co-ordinators for the past year. Sorry to see you go!

So, if you are looking for babysitters or if you would like to do some babysitting, why not give one of the co-ordinators in your area a call. They will be more than happy to help you.

You can call any of the following co-ordinators in your area: Akinsdale, Mrs. Clague, 458-0141; Braeside, Mrs. Sass, 458-3281; Forest Lawn, Mrs. McConkey, 458-5923; Lacombe, Mrs. Giger, 458-2693 or Mrs. Childs, 459-6241; Mission Park - Mrs. Manegre 458-0780 or Mrs. Jurgens, 458-0408; Sturgeon, Mrs. MacKenzie, 458-1240.

LADIES FASTBALL

Any ladies interested in playing fastball this summer in St. Albert, please contact Mrs. Vi Oke, 459-8013. The group will be playing twice a week.

FACILITIES

Now is the time of year that various service groups in St. Albert should be thinking of booking facilities from the City for next fall. If your group requires space in a school, clubhouse or? please come in to the Community Services Department, 20 Muir Drive and pick up a Facilities Request Form. We would like to have these completed and returned to the office as soon as possible.

Response to public hearing prompts Catholic Board to hold followups

Declining enrollments at Father Jan School are causing problems for parents in Mission Park and District 3. At a public meeting Monday night, held in Bertha Kennedy School, and attended by about 100 people, Board members heard parent concerns over split classes at Father Jan. It was immediately evident that the community core concept is a popular one and any disruption is not going to be welcomed.

Many parents couldn't understand how the Board could make a decision on housing (the public hearing was called to discuss student housing for next year) without also looking at staffing. Staffing proposals will be coming to the Board from the administration in the next two weeks.

One woman suggested that an alternative would be to make Father Jan a primary school and bus the older children to Bertha Kennedy but most parents directly involved seem to favour busing from crowded areas to Father Jan to avoid the split classes. Board members pointed out that parents in the other area of St. Albert also liked the community school concept and would also object to busing or split classes. Some people would have to give a little to make the tight financial situation work as well as possible.

Ted Baldwin, District Secretary Treasurer, told the audience that additional teachers added to the payroll would cost the Board approximately $20,000 each which would represent almost one extra mill of taxation.

The Board is presently looking at a budget deficit of $105,000 and is still looking for areas which can yet be trimmed before bringing in the final draft. St. Albert's Protestant District requisition is about 10 mills lower than the Catholic District and Catholic Board members would rather not widen this gap.

One parent who has three boys attending different schools within the district said Mission Park parents were always asked to do the giving and it was time someone else did. It was time for the children in the Father Jan attendance area to get a break.

Other parents suggested a boundary shift between the Bertha Kennedy area and Father Jan area to overcome the split class problem but Lacombe Park parents didn't seem very interested. Again it was the desire to retain the community idea.

The large turnout and many concerns raised by those turning out, resulted in the board setting over any decision on housing until after a public meeting on staffing and housing to be held April 24, at 7:30 in the Bertha Kennedy School.

In excess of $16,000 was realized in a cancer blitz in St. Albert this week.

The blitz culminated Monday night in a final spurt of concentrated activity in and around St. Albert residences and businesses.

The Anglican Church which organized the drive wants to thank all the area captains, canvassers and donors who helped make the drive a success. Altogether about 400 people helped the blitz to get off the ground successfully.

Lois Hole on council

Athabasca U now self-governing

Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, recently announced that Athabasca University in Edmonton has been approved as a permanent self-governing post-secondary institution.

"Since its establishment in 1970, Athabasca University has been governed by an interim authority. On April 12, 1978 the administration and operations of the university will become the sole responsibility of a new governing council," Dr. Hohol said.

"The endorsement by Cabinet of the Athabasca University Governing Council is a significant milestone in the history of post-secondary institutions in Alberta. The uni-cameral system of the new Athabasca council will be the first of its kind in the province," Dr. Hohol explained. Under the uni-cameral system, a single governing body is responsible for academic and financial affairs.

"The new Athabasca University regulations, within the Universities Act, allow the governing council to exercise and perform the powers and duties of a board of governors, a general faculties council, a faculty and school council, and a senate. In its performance of the chancellor function, the council will also arrange for the conferring of degrees," Dr. Hohol elaborated.

The governing council will consist of a maximum of 23 members. More than half of the members will be public representatives -- a chairman and up to 12 public members.

Athabasca University's president Dr. W.A.S. Smith, B.L. Snowden, vice-president of university services, and J.S. Daniel, vice-president of learning services are members of the council. Others will include one student, one non-academic staff member and five academic staff members.

Six Albertans have been appointed public members of the governing council. Effective April 12, the appointments are for three years.

LOIS HOLE JOINS COUNCIL

Dr. Hohol named Kenneth J. Chapman of Edmonton chairman of the council. Other public members are Lois Hole of St. Albert, and Rev. E. M. Checkland, Peter E. Sandor, J. W. Dodds and John Elson of Edmonton. Additional appointments are pending.

Mrs. Hole, R.R. 2, St. Albert is a market farmer with her husband. She has been a member of the Interim governing authority since July, 1971. At present, Mrs. Hole is chairman of the education committee in Sturgeon County.

Since the Interim Governing Authority of Athabasca University came into existence in 1970, the university has progressed and developed to its present permanent status. With its open-admission policy, Alberta's fourth university was fashioned after the model open university in Britain.

Athabasca University was established in June, 1970 with a mandate to provide under-graduate degree programs in arts, sciences, and education with emphasis on the humanities and social services. In December, 1972 the university was given a new mandate for a pilot project aimed at providing at-home study opportunities to adult Albertans unable to attend university in a traditional manner.

The transition from a pilot project to permanent status was realized in November, 1975 when Cabinet approved the establishment of Athabasca University as a permanent baccalaureate university.

Education Gazette

Alberta Education to move offices

Alberta Education is moving into the west wing of the Devonian Building, located at 11160 Jasper Avenue, TSK 0L2, beginning April 14.

The only branches not affected by the move will be the School Book Branch and Correspondence School, Alberta Education Communications Authority, Edmonton Regional Office of Field Services, and the Heritage Savings and Trust Fund Project, all of which will remain in their present locations.

All telephone numbers will remain the same during and after the move, which is expected to be completed by the beginning of June.

The first offices to settle in the new facility are the deputy minister and his associates, the Communications Branch and Early Childhood Services on the 10th floor, and Planning and Research and the Registrar on the ninth floor, beginning April 14.

Finance, statistics and legislation will occupy the seventh and eighth floors of the Devonian Building. Field Services will move to the sixth, Educational Opportunities Fund, School Buildings and Special Education will have offices on the fifth floor. The Education library and Production Materials Unit will be located on the fourth floor and Curriculum Branch will occupy the third floor. Personnel and Audio Visual Services will have space on the second floor. The main floor will house a new cafeteria capable of accommodating 248 people. Student Evaluation and Data Processing Branch, previously located in the west wing of the Devonian Building, has moved into new office space on the second and third floors of the new east wing.

The move to the Devonian Building will be co-ordinated to fill the building floor by floor, beginning at the top, and should take a total of nine weeks to complete. Most of the moving will be done on weekends. The public is asked to be patient during the transition period of consolidation and improvement of services.

Eastglen High planning reunion

Edmonton's Eastglen Composite High School will be celebrating its 25th anniversary in the fall with a giant birthday party.

All former students, teachers and friends are invited to the festivities which will hopefully include a banquet and dance, a genuine old fashioned "Lit" and prophesies revisited.

The tracking-down of "old students" is not easy so we ask that former Eastglennites write or call to indicate that they wish to be part of the grand birthday party.

The organizers, Bev Crawford (466-6274), Shirley McNeill (482-6632) and Erma Kapeller (466-7797) invite your call or contact with Eastglen Composite High School, 11430 - 68 Street, Edmonton 479-1991 directly.

University housing rates set

The University of Alberta Board of Governors has set the 1978-79 rates for residence accommodation at the university.

The rates given approval at the Board's meeting recently apply to the Lister Hall residence complex, the Michener Park married student accommodation, HUB apartments, the Faculte St. Jean residence and the Pembina Hall residence.

Prior to their setting the rates, the Governors were informed that a number of changes are being made to make the Lister Hall complex, the university's largest residence, a relaxed and quiet place where students can live, study and socialize with less tension and stress.

The changes, which include an increased offering of single rooms, greater control over access to the residence towers, and increased action by the resident student government and the resident deans aimed at reducing unacceptable behaviour, are largely designed to reduce noise in the complex.

RATES UP 9.8 PERCENT

The rates set by the Governors for the complex are 9.8 percent more than those of last year. For the winter session, students will pay $1,670 each for double occupancy accommodation, $2,002 for single accommodation and bachelor rooms, slightly smaller than single rooms, will rent at $1,958. The rates include utilities, telephone, some cleaning service and three meals per day weekdays and two on weekends.

Michener Park monthly rental rates have been increased by $20 and now range from $193 per month for ground floor maisonettes to $220 per month for three bedroom row houses in the complex located in the vicinity of 122 Street and 48 Avenue.

Rental increases for HUB apartments range from $7 to $27 per month. Unfurnished one-person units will rent at $165, two-person units at $230, and four-person units at $355 per month. Furnished apartments of comparable size will rent at $190, $255, and $410 respectively. Special end units will rent at $250 per month.

Faculte St. Jean room and board rates have been increased by 10 percent and accommodation at the bilingual college now costs $1,540 for the winter session.

Standard Pembina Hall rooms will rent at $1,665 and large rooms in the same residence will rent at $1,896 during winter session. The new rates represent a 9.2 percent increase and include charges for two meals per day on weekdays.

Equus explores dynamics of passion, religion

EQUUS
EDMONTON, GARNEAU
By Jim McIntyre

A spellbinding movie this, the film version of Peter Shaffer's play Equus (horse), and brutal as it unravels the tormented repressed sexuality of a 20th century 17 year old Christian lad Alan Strang, played by Peter Firth.

It falls to the lot of actor Richard Burton, as the boy's psychiatrist Martin Dysart, to probe the mystery of why the boy blinded four horses with a hoof pick.

The movie and the play are about a simple yet also profound mystery, why certain objects or living things in the world around us "magnetise" themselves in the mind, working out their power over us, while other forces leave us cold.

In the case of Alan Strang, he has been deeply affected by two forces, that of the suffering Jesus and the sensual, galloping force of Equus, the alluring glossy backed horse.

These two themes are delicately handled, yet unswervingly confronted, till they are ultimately exposed in the final orgasmic gallop which Strang allows his tormented psychiatrist Dysart to watch on the couch.

The movie has several advantages over the play version of the psychodrama; it makes subtle and suggestive use of the rituals of horsemanship, the equipment of saddle and stirrup, rein and rider, the horse itself the innocent and unwitting symbol of passion unbridled.

As Burton probes the deepening mystery of the boy's soul, he becomes more and more aware of his own identity with Strang; in fact, Dysart poses the uncomfortable question of what is the norm; had Strang not de-eyed four horses, would his passion for them have been any worse than the psychiatrist's love of Greek Gods, sacrifice and archaology, and lack of passion for his wife?

After the boy is cured, even the psychiatrist jealously admits that at least the boy has galloped, has experienced the fierceness of human passion.

He may never experience such intensity again, but has at least tasted it.

There is a fine performance from Jenny Agutter, she plays Jill Mason the stablegirl who finds that Alan's human sexuality has suffered a virtual death blow after its mysterious brush with "Equus."

Joan Plowright as the boy's mother and Colin Blakely as his mystified father are unable to confront themselves adequately with the passionate spawn of their own passion, having fallen into comfortable middle age.

Equus is well worth seeing if you can confront what it has to say about some very delicate areas of human psychology and feeling.

The Guardsman: a bit of froth for sloth post-winter

By Vicky Knight

It could probably be said with reasonable accuracy that Ferenc Molnar was the Neil Simon of turn-of-the-century Hungary. His play "The Guardsman" is a frothy romantic comedy with a couple of intriguing gimmicks that raise it out of the ordinary.

The play concerns a husband and wife, both of whom are actors. The wife is a reigning beauty and prior to her marriage had a number of discreet flings. The husband, a bombastic but brilliant fellow, burns with jealousy at any hint of infidelity from his wife. In order to test her loyalty, he impersonates a Russian guardsman and attempts to seduce her. The potential for mishap is obvious, and Molnar further spices the dish with a "lady or the tiger" ending.

In the Theatre 3 production, Judith Mabey plays the wife with her usual lean, tense sensuality. On Thursday night however, the vitality which usually underlies her work seemed ever so slightly dimmed. Granted, the character is a brittle one, but I expected a bit more crackle. Despite this however, she remains a magnetic presence on any stage. Costumiere Norma Statham created some deliciously glamorous costumes for Ms. Mabey, which probably made the women in the audience pine for the days of more dramatic plumage.

Vancouver actor, Jim McQueen, masterfully assumed the role of the husband/guardsman and he and Mabey made a stunning couple. Mr. McQueen delivered his lines in rapid fire style which probably suited the hyper husband. However, I wished he had altered the tempo to extract the maximum mirth from the rather droll script. This was particularly noticeable during the scenes where the poseur husband was attempting to seduce his own wife. A little less speed might have allowed the delightful ironies of this ridiculous situation to really sink in.

Watching the exchanges between McQueen and Mabey, it becomes clear why the Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne seized upon this play as a vehicle for their remarkable talents. The verbal thrust and parry is tailor-made for a husband and wife team, as a strong rapport between actor and actress heightens and audience's feeling of being privy to naughty intimacies.

Margaret Martin was wonderfully raucous as the mother-in-law, who is not fooled by any pretence to grandeur. Stephen Walsh has a gem of a character role in the Creditor, which he handles with his usual dazzling versatility.

I must say here that I was not enamoured of the set design. It was too busy and although it reflected the art deco flavour of the time, I thought it could have had much more glamour. The colours, while drab, still managed to clash, and when they combined with Ms. Mabey's gowns, the result was nearly painful to the eye. Nevertheless, I enjoyed "The Guardsman," although it is not likely to remain imprinted forever on my mind. It is not that kind of play. However, a little froth is good for flagging spirits, particularly when produced in the middle of an abortive springtime.

Popular books at the library

By Joyce Genereux
The St. Albert Public Library has a section of books called Popular Library. Bro-Dart of Canada sends 30 popular new books each month. These books are chosen by the librarian from a list provided by Bro-Dart. The books are confined strictly to the fields of current fiction and popular non-fiction.

The Plague Dogs by Richard Adams. Richard Adams has given us a tale of quest in this enthralling new novel. It is his three wonderful animals on the run - dogs and fox, powerfully conceived, magically realized, seizing and holding our allegiance - who make this novel his most affecting, most disturbing, most illuminating.

The Queen's Husband by Jean Plaidy. Jean Plaidy's novel zestfully portrays the private lives and public deeds of Victoria and Albert in a royal tale of romance destined to captivate its readers.

The Valkyrie Encounter by Stephen Marlowe. Berlin, July 1944, is the setting of novelist Stephen Marlowe's finest work. It is an explosive mixture of fact and fiction as he recreates in a brilliant tour de force the world-famous assassination attempt on Hitler that set in motion an abortive uprising throughout wartime Europe.

Mash Mania by Richard Hooker. Hawkeye Pierce, Duke Forrest, Trapper John McIntyre, and Spearchucker Jones lived in a tent called the Swamp at the 4077th Mobile Army Surgical Hospital, 40 miles north of Seoul, Korea, in 1952, and their adventures were chronicled in MASH.

In MASH Mania we find the men of the Swamp well into middle age. Nothing about them seems to have changed. Many colorful characters continue the outrageously funny humour that inspired the original best seller.

The Girl by Catherine Cookson. A story of adversity and hope. The Girl is full of suspenseful and dramatic moments as Hannah defies her oppressors and emerges from her girlhood trials a mature and independent woman.

SUB theatre stages bizarre black comedy

Joe Orton's wild black comedy is not too far removed from the Chaplin-esque genre of theatre... illogical logic, zany satire and questionable ethics combine to make an evening of bizarre entertainment! Orton's play will be staged at the SUB Theatre Friday, April 21 and Saturday, April 22 at 8:30 p.m.

LOOT is about death, religion, money and the police and involves the constant juggling of a corpse, the pursuit of the corpse's false eyes under the furniture and the clacking of its false teeth in a wildly spirited Spanish dance! The staccato dialogue stabs across the scene like a machine gun fire in this bizarre upside-down comedy.

The play is, in fact, a kind of artificial drawing room comedy although the drawing room has been replaced by a front parlour with the principal object... a coffin!

A freshly bereaved husband is mourning his wife, assisted by a pretty nurse who attended the good lady to the end. The scene of mourning is joined by the dead woman's son who is somewhat preoccupied with a bank robbery he has just committed with a friend. The two accomplices are rather disturbed by the presence of a sinister pipe-smoking gentleman snooping around the house who claims to be an official of the Metropolitan Water Board. As they have both had the misfortune to have received quite rough treatment by him at the police station, it is no wonder that they suspect him of being a policeman. Where then to hide the loot?

LOOT, which has had many awards as a long-running hit in London's West End and Broadway has recently enjoyed a highly successful revival in London.

This Playhouse NEW SERIES production will be directed by Paul Reynolds who was responsible for last year's well received provincial tour, "72 Under the O."

Vancouver dancer wins choreography award

The 1978 Lee Choreography Award has been given to Vancouver dancer-choreographer, Mauryne Allan. This important award, established by Edmonton's Clifford E. Lee Foundation "to encourage the development of Canadian choreography by means of assistance for promising and emerging choreographers," is worth $2,500. It will enable Miss Allan to spend the summer of 1978 at The Banff Centre, School of Fine Arts, where she will work with the dance students and direct them in a Banff Festival of the Arts production of "Spring" inspired by the music of Vivaldi.

It was this work, which Miss Allan performed for a jury made up of Brian MacDonald of Les Grands Ballets Canadiens, Arnold Spohr of The Royal Winnipeg Ballet and Peter Randazzo of The Toronto Dance Theatre, that won her the coveted award, placing her ahead of nine other contestants.

Mauryne Allan has long been associated with the dance. She is known as an inventive choreographer who has worked with the Vancouver Ballet Workshop, Surrey Little Theatre, Simon Fraser University, Heritage Musical Theatre and companies in Australia. She is the founder of Mountain Dance Theatre in Burnaby, B.C.

In 1979, the amount of the Lee Choreography Award will be increased to $3,000 maintaining it as one of the most sought after arts awards in Canada today.

Spinning and natural dyeing - the earthy arts

By Vicky Knight evokes dreamy romantic scenes. A woman, draped in a gauze gown, sitting at the spinning wheel, staring wistfully off into space. Well, the image is charming, but according to Rosemarie Solomon, wildly inaccurate. The venerable art of spinning is not for the faint hearted. It is a demanding task requiring endless patience and a lack of squeamishness. And Rosemarie should know. She will be instructing spinning and natural dyeing for the city of St. Albert on April 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Those planning to attend the workshop are advised to wear old clothes as cleaning the wool can mean dealing with sheep manure and the occasional wandering louse. However, it is a rewarding activity and a challenge to the practitioner. There will be a wheel for each two students at the workshop, so everyone will become familiar with the tools of the trade.

For Rosemarie, spinning is a family tradition. She learned to spin at her grandmother's knee and later perfected her art in classes in weaving and spinning. She worked for the Edmonton Parks and Recreation department and spent a fascinating period in Guatemala learning their unique folk arts. She has taught for the U of A Students' Union, Alberta Culture and the Spinning Wheel here in St. Albert.

on their work at home after attending the workshop. After they spin the yarn, it can be knitted, woven, crocheted or any other process desired. Even the work of novice spinners has a unique appeal, according to Rosemarie. Beginners usually overtwist the yarn, creating an unusual effect. Because of this, she encourages pupils to save their early efforts. For those concerned about botching their first attempts, Rosemarie assures beginners that despite any difficulties, the rhythm of the wheel is soothing.

DYES FROM ALL SOURCES

Rosemarie encourages her students to bring in any substance which might yield an appealing hue for dyeing. The workshop will be an experimental exercise, and she hopes students will be exposed to all kinds of ideas.

In the dyeing process, the wool is first treated to strip it of dust, grease, dirt and commercial sizing, if any. It is then treated, with one of four different chemicals. When it is put in the dye bath, the resulting colour will depend on the chemical with which the wool was treated. It is then simmered, rinsed and dried naturally. These dyes fix themselves naturally as well. When compared with commercial dyes, they are comparable and in some ways superior. The fading processes in naturally dyed fabrics tends to enhance, not detract from the colour, which mellows richly.

ROSEMARIE SOLOMON

Rosemarie's students will learn how to prepare wool for spinning, using both washed wool and "fleece in the grease." They will also be exposed to spinning on spindles, and learn how spinning relates to dyeing. Rosemarie stresses that her students will be able to carry

Women and violence conference on next week

Two major sessions of the April 21-23 "Women in a Violent Society" conference are open to the public.

Friday evening, April 21, Dr. Diana Russell, who edited proceedings of the 1976 international "Crimes Against Women" tribunal, will speak. Commenting on her talk will be a panel of Canadian experts: Dr. Loranne Clark, author of Rape: The Price of Coercive Sexuality; Albertan Maria Campbell, author of Halfbreed; and British Columbia transition house activist Jillian Ridington.

The event, the conference's opening session, begins at 7 p.m. at the Palliser Hotel. There is no charge.

On Saturday, American feminist Robin Morgan will give an address on "Women in a Violent Society: Theoretical Perspectives." Morgan, an editor of Ms. magazine, has several books to her credit, among them the Sisterhood Is Powerful anthology and her newly released Going Too Far.

Following her prepared remarks, there will be an opportunity for questions and discussion. The talk begins at 8 p.m. at the Westward Inn, 12th Ave. and 1st St. S.W. There is a $2 admission charge for those not registered for the conference.

Sessions Saturday and Sunday will focus on battered women, rape, pornography and sexual harassment. Leaders include, in addition to the women mentioned above, Joanie Vance, national assistor for rape crisis centres; Gene Errington, director of the Women's Research Centre; Calgary psychologist Maria Eriksen; and University of Calgary law professors Iwan Saunders and Connie Hunt.

Delegates from throughout Canada, as well as from the United States, will be attending the conference, which is sponsored by the Calgary Status of Women Action Committee.

Requests for registration materials may be made to SWAC, by phone from 264-0774, or by mail from 223 - 12th Ave. S.W., Calgary T2R 0G9.

The Paul Kane badminton team

Paul Kane's badminton team put on their strongest display of the season as they hosted eight other high school teams from the North Central Zone. The Saturday tournament extended over a seven hour span. When the statistics were completed, they revealed that Paul Kane will be represented in all sections at the Zone finals slated for Saturday, April 22 at Westlock. The top three in each category advance.

In singles play, Kevin Sage earned first place without losing a single game of the 10 he played.

Sandra Millman and Penny Golden ended up in second and third positions, behind Dorothy Lynes of Westlock in the girls section.

The mixed final was an all Paul Kane struggle as Thora Eyeford and Rick Webber edged Dianne Vincent and Georgie Sinclair for the top honours.

Mitch White and Kim Boyd lost only once as they posted another championship for Paul Kane.

Thorhild won first place in girls doubles, but it was not easy as they had to overcome Carolyn Jones and Shannon Erickson to gain the gold.

In total, 11 of Paul Kane's team members advance to Zone competition.

The Hideout Column

By Sharon Beale

I return once again to bring you joy of great tidings ...?, tidings of great joy ...? Whatever it is, it's good news.

The Hideout is once again holding a disco, with a return performance by Bobby De-Champlain and the fabulous Music Machine!! It will be held in the Teen Centre on Friday, April 21 from 8 - 12. The cost is the same as last time; $1.99 for non-members and 99¢ for members.

We recently acquired two more foosball tables to add to our collection of games. The fact that we went through a whole can of Pledge on Saturday night for waxing their bars attests to their popularity. We expect to have a new pool table, shuffleboard, microwave oven, several TV pong games and other goodies down by the April 29 weekend and ready for action.

It would be appreciated if all of you who do visit the Teen Centre over the week-end or during lunch hours would check to make sure that your shoes aren't muddy. It's pretty hard to keep the floor clean and it is driving our poor janitors nuts!! In addition to that, anyone who wishes to help out behind the concession or up at the door one night, please give Brian Leonard a call at 459-6601 or Al Zylstra at 459-8512.

I think that almost everyone is familiar with the hairy mascot that is associated with the Teen Centre. In the future we're planning a Name-The-Mascot contest, so start oiling your rusty brains, shake out the cobwebs and think!

Presbyterian Church celebrated anniversary

Sunday, April 23, 1978 will mark the 14th anniversary of the Braeside Presbyterian Church in St. Albert. A special Service of Praise and Thanksgiving with guest preacher and guest choir will celebrate the occasion.

Back in April 1964 the founding service of the Presbyterian Congregation in St. Albert was held in the Library of Sir George Simpson School. It was a Communion Service conducted by the Presbytery of Edmonton at which 35 charter members were received.

Since then the Congregation has continued to grow and develop. In the fall of 1968 the present Church building on Bernard Drive was completed and dedicated. Plans are now being laid for the construction of a new Church sanctuary on the same site as the present facilities are becoming inadequate. A new building fund has been established and is well on the way to meeting its objectives.

The guest preacher for Sunday's anniversary service will be the Rev. Dr. Robert L.

Taylor, presently the minister of Eastminster Presbyterian Church, Edmonton. Dr. Taylor, born in Glasgow, Scotland, grew up in Orillia, Ontario. He graduated from the University of Toronto in 1933 and three years later completed his theological studies at Knox College, Toronto.

As a Presbyterian minister his service in Christ's Church has all been in Western Canada. He served congregations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta before being called to St. John's Church, Medicine Hat where he ministered for 24 years. From Medicine Hat he moved to West Vancouver, and last year was called to Eastminster Church, Edmonton.

In 1960 Rev. Bob Taylor was honoured by Knox College with the degree of Doctor of Divinity. A year later Dr. Taylor was elected moderator of the General Assembly, the highest court of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Dr. Taylor is a distinguished Churchman who gives outstanding service through the preaching and pastoral ministry of the church. The title of Dr. Taylor's message on Sunday is, "Under New Management."

Also sharing in the Service of Worship on Sunday will be the 25 voice Korean Presbyterian Church Choir from Edmonton. Under the direction of Mr. Dal Lee, the choir will offer special praise to the Lord with two beautiful anthems.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service. The church is located on Bernard Drive at the corner of Bishop Avenue and Sir Winston Churchill Blvd., across from the new swimming pool. Light refreshments will be served following the Worship Service.

Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church recognized

There will be a "recognition" service for the Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church, April 23 (Sunday) at 2:30 p.m. at the Paul Kane High School.

Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church has been accepted as a member church in the Alberta Baptist Association of the North American Baptist Conference.

This formal acceptance took place at the annual sessions of the Alberta Baptist Association held in Medicine Hat, April 6 - 9, 1978.

On March 6, 1978 a Recognition Council was convened at the request of Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church for the purpose of examining the church's constitution and bylaws, statement of faith, and church covenant. The council, which met at McKernan Baptist Church of Edmonton, the sponsoring church of Sturgeon Valley Baptist, recommended that Sturgeon Valley Baptist be recognized as duly constituted North American Baptist Church, and that it be accepted as a member in the Alberta Baptist Association.

This Recognition Service is a public announcement of affiliation, as well as the church's desire to minister to the spiritual needs of St. Albert.

Local and provincial church and community leaders will participate in this service to which the public is cordially invited. Lunch and fellowship follows.

Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church, a church extension project of the Alberta Baptist Association, has been ministering to St. Albert since April 4, 1976. Rev. Irwin Kujat and his family have been serving the young and growing congregation since July 1976. The church was organized in September 1976 and a membership was established in March, 1977. The average worship congregation is near 110, although as many as 165 have worshipped at Paul Kane High School on some Sundays.

Start phone service to libraries

Patrons of Alberta's libraries now have improved access to information from provincial library resources, thanks to the installation of a zenith toll-free telephone service in seven public libraries. The lines have been installed by Alberta Culture.

The new telephone lines mean that small rural libraries will be able to use the zenith number to quickly obtain information from the larger urban libraries.

Zenith telephone lines have been installed in public libraries in Edmonton, Calgary, Grande Prairie, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Medicine Hat and the Parkland Regional Library in Lacombe.

This new service is provided by arrangements between Alberta Culture and the Calgary and Edmonton Public Library Boards. It is expected that the new zenith lines will strengthen Alberta's library and information network making both materials and information readily available to Albertans in all parts of the province.

ECONOMICAL SUMMER COTTAGE Plan No. P10-3-134

From any viewpoint this versatile plan of the week would make a perfect year-round cottage.

Personalize the exterior as shown on the left, with a modernized Swiss chalet approach, or use siding artfully to relieve the tedium of vertical and horizontal lines as shown on the right.

The floor plan shown is for the illustration on the left, but the design is available in either floor plan. The front entrance opens to the living room dominated by the wood-burning fireplace. The stairway at the end of this vaulted ceiling room leads up to the upper balcony with three small bedrooms. The upper balcony running the full length of the cottage, overlooks the living room, and affords an outside view as well through the large front windows.

The compact kitchen makes the best use of the space available, and is designed with a window over the sink, a must in a cottage.

The storage space shown in this plan can be completely closed off, and locked, a very important security measure. There's lots of room to store summer lawn furniture, or gardening equipment, or even to install ski racks.

Just off the storage room, clean up in the three piece bathroom before entering the rest of the cottage. An important design feature in a beach cottage where tracked-in sand is a problem.

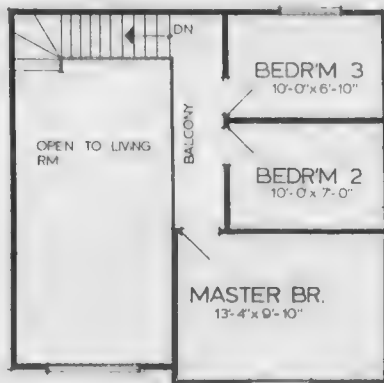

A three-piece ensuite is shown, but if you can't afford water and sewer hookups at the time of construction add this later on as your budget allows.

Designed with the needs of cottagers in mind, this plan will make a perfect summer retreat for the family.

Plans for design No. P10-3-124 may be obtained at a cost of $51 for a set of three and $8 for each additional set. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling. When ordering a plan, please specify the floorplan as shown in the illustration, or ask for a reverse floor plan.

To view more than 100 well-designed quality homes of every type, send for the current publication of the Home Plan Catalogue available for $2.60 ($2.25 plus 35¢ postage and handling). Make all cheques and money orders payable to "Plan of the Week" and mail to: Plan of the Week, c/o St. Albert & Sturgeon Gazette, 324 Columbia Street, New Westminster, B.C. V3L 1A6.

Energy demand increases

Alberta's electric energy demands in the Calgary Power Ltd. service area increased by 11.5 percent in January, compared to demand figures for January 1977.

This is 1.1 per cent higher than the predicted yearly increase in demand in 1978 over 1977. Calgary Power anticipated consumer demand to increase by 10.4 percent during 1978.

Calgary Power's net generation of electricity was 1.1 billion kilowatt hours for January. Coal fired generation from the company's two thermal power plants at Wabamun and Sundance, about 40 miles west of Edmonton accounted for 87 percent of the total while the remainder was generated from Calgary Power's 13 hydro electric plants.

Peak load of 1.8 billion kilowatt occurred on January 19 at 6 p.m. The Alberta system net peak load of 2.9 billion kilowatt occurred on January 5 at 6 p.m.

Compost heap - a necessity for the serious gardener

Most of us mow the lawn week in and week out throughout the growing season; rake leaves in the fall; throw out old peelings, spoiled fruit, eggshells, carrot tops, beet tops, corn husks, etc., all with very little thought to the good use we put all this 'waste'. We pack it all into those green plastic garbage bags and it is hauled away to the dump.

The effort expended is often greater than and more time consuming than saving these 'waste' materials for use in a compost heap.

Compost is an economical substitute for barnyard manure and also improves the water holding capacity of sandy soils. One of its most important functions is providing aeration for plant roots particularly in clay soils.

When building the heap no fats, diseased plants, plants with ripe seeds, pine needles, woody branches or noxious weeds (i.e. quackgrass, chickweed, etc.) should be used.

The first step is choosing a site, usually away in a corner somewhere that is not highly visible to those using the area. As it takes a year to completely decompose the heap it is a good idea to prepare two pits or bins so that you can have a supply on hand while making the next year's.

The actual heap can be hidden in a pit, left in the open, or contained in a bin. The bin is probably the best choice when one considers the amount of work necessary to dig a pit or the unsightliness of an open heap.

Sink six posts in the ground about three feet apart to form a rectangle (see diagram). Tacking chicken wire to the posts will hold the material in while also allowing air to circulate. Wire between the centre posts will serve to divide the set up into two bins. Leaving one end open will enable you to stack slats as the heap grows and also make access to the compost a simple matter when it is ready for your garden.

The heap itself is built in layers. Some writers suggest the use of a power shredder (which can be rented) to speed up the decomposition process. Each layer in the heap should be about six inches deep and the entire pile about four feet.

The bottom layer of the heap is made by turning the sod roots up. Throw in a few old newspapers and wet until soggy. Follow with a thin animal waste layer (not your dogs), a thicker layer of plant material, a sprinkling of ammonium sulfate or fertilizer and a layer of soil. The heap should be slightly concave at the top and kept damp in dry weather BUT NOT SOGGY. Alternate layers in this manner to the desired height.

If the heap contains a good deal of grass clippings it should be turned with a fork in a month or so as there is a likelihood that it will generate too much heat.

The compost is ready for application when it is dark in colour and loses its original form and texture. It will crumble when touched.

When properly decomposed it will smell sweet and is very fertile. It is a suitable substitute for manure and a two-inch application each year will greatly increase your soils productivity.

Homeowner's interests protected by insurance

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

Insurance, of one form or another, must be a major consideration for anyone thinking of buying or building a house.

There are many different kinds of insurance available to protect a homeowner's investment. The type that first comes to mind is fire insurance. If you own an NHA-financed house, it must be protected by fire insurance for an amount at least equal to the loan. For example, if you obtain a $35,000 loan you will need a $35,000 fire insurance policy on your property.

In case of fire damage, the holder of the first mortgage has first claim to the insurance money followed by the holders of other liens against the property. It is strongly advisable therefore, to have fire insurance coverage to the extent needed to protect your own investment in the house, as well as the lender's.

Fire insurance policies are usually renewable every year. Your mortgage budgeting account should include savings towards payment of the fire insurance premiums.

If a fire should occur you should notify the lender as well as the insurance company. Of course, the thought of fire is never a pleasant one and the best means of avoiding fire in your home is to follow the elementary rules of fire prevention. Your insurance company or your local fire department will be glad to supply you with literature on fire prevention.

REDUCING TERM INSURANCE

In case of death, it is possible to have the balance of the mortgage debt paid off through reducing term insurance. This type of protection is especially valuable for the family with growing children. Should the head of the household die before the loan on the house is repaid the remaining members of the family need not worry about losing their home because of their inability to meet the monthly mortgage payments. This special type of policy assures the homeowner that in the event of his or her death, the family will not only be able to keep the house, but the mortgage will be completely paid off.

A third type of insurance, liability insurance, is also available to the homeowner. This provides compensation to strangers as well as to members of your family and friends, for damages or lawsuit expenses you might incur if one of them sustained an injury, or if their property were damaged, at your home. This kind of insurance may cover personal or property damage caused anywhere by you or other members of your family except automobile accident liability.

Easy to construct compost heap enclosure.

Garden jargon explained

This may sound redundant to long-time gardeners, but for those of you who are neophytes, I hope it's of some help. I want to explain the meaning of commonly used expressions in gardening.

Sidedressing: applying fertilizer on each side of the row or around the base of large plants.

Greenmanuring: the act of sowing rye or clover in your garden after it's been harvested, letting it grow, get covered by the snow, grow again in the spring, then tilling it under before planting the next garden, thereby adding nutrients to the soil as the rye or clover decomposes during the summer. In essence, it's like grand-scale composting, with the entire garden acting as the compost heap.

Manure tea: fill a burlap sack about half full of manure, drop the whole thing in a small barrel or 5-gallon plastic pail to be used for this purpose from then on, let it sit in the garage or anywhere out of sight, giving the bag a few swishings every so often. In a couple days, drain most of the moisture from the bag, water down the resulting 'tea' so that it's a pale color, and give your fertilizer-hungry plants a good drink, then water them with plain water. Boy, do they love it! Add water to your 'tea' container, drop the sack in and use it again. When you no longer get much color from these dunkings, mix the soggy manure with some soil and apply it to your flower beds. The color of your flowers will be much deeper, and their fragrance enhanced. (No, they WON'T smell like the manure!) If you use chicken droppings for your 'tea' base, add more water than for other manures when diluting it, as chicken manure is very strong and could burn your plants if it's too strong.

Mulching: covering the soil around your plants with grass clippings, shredded leaves or newspaper, or spoiled hay, to a depth of 5 or 6", which retains moisture in the soil and stops weeds as they don't have the light they need to grow. You can mulch each plant individually, if you're a little short of mulching material, but it's a whole lot smarter to do the whole garden and save your back the chore of weeding. Plow it back into the soil in the fall, leave the surface rough, and you've improved the tilth of the soil and upped the mineral content, too.

Interplanting: the planting of marigolds, nasturtiums and other 'smelly' flowers all over the garden to foil the bugs' smelling apparatus.

Companion planting: not all plants like each other and do best if you plan your garden, keeping in mind the likes and dislikes of your various vegetables. Below is a list of what grows best together.

Asparagus: likes everything except onions and garlic.

Beans: like corn, summer savory; dislike onions.

Beets: like onions; dislike kohlrabi.

Cabbage family: likes aromatics (especially mint), potatoes, beets, onions; dislikes strawberries, tomatoes, pole beans. Carrots: like peas, leaf lettuce, tomatoes; dislike dill intensely.

Cucumbers: like beans, corn, peas, radishes, sunflowers; dislike potatoes, aromatic herbs.

Tomatoes: like onions, parsley, asparagus, marigolds, carrots; dislike kohlrabi, potatoes, cabbage.

Peas: like most vegetables, but do not like onions, garlic, potatoes.

Lettuce: likes carrots, radishes, strawberries and cucumbers.

So, be a friend to your garden, and give your plants amenable neighbors!

Help is available in battle against bugs

The scenario is an all too familiar one to many gardeners. A flourishing crop is reduced to an unappetizing rubble by an infestation of pests. Now, there are several philosophies prevalent regarding the constant battle between gardener and bugs. The first holds that the gardener should respond at the first glimpse of an insect with a massive chemical retaliation -- spraying or dusting everything in sight. At the other end of the spectrum is the back-to-nature gardener, who believes that eventually, natural processes will intervene on his behalf, eliminating the need for chemicals. The best approach, of course, lies somewhere in the middle. The most successful gardener is the one who realizes that not all bugs are a menace, but that certain species must be combated.

The first step in the process is recognition of the species. By all means, those bugs dangerous to plants must be eliminated, but not at the expense of honey bees and insect predators.

The successful gardener will first resort to primitive rather than technological methods, by picking the offending bugs off plants by hand. In the case of certain caterpillars or aphids, a blast of water from the hose will be enough to dislodge them from their food source.

HOMEMADE REPELLENT

To prevent the little beasts from attacking in the first place there is a repellent spray which the gardener can brew up. Take three ounces of garlic, chop, blend and soak for one day in two teaspoons of mineral oil. Add one pint water containing one-quarter ounce of pure, non-detergent soap. Stir and strain through several layers of cheesecloth. Dilute at about one part to 20 parts water and spray in vegetables or flowers to be protected. Store in glass or plastic containers. Do not use metal.

Should these remedies fail, there are several pesticides made from natural sources to which the gardener can resort.

Rotenone, made from South American roots is successful against many garden insects and is harmless to humans and pets. Nor does it hang around long, doing damage to other growth. Another natural insecticide is Pyrethrum, made from the Pyrethrum Daisy. This is a more potent substance but is also more damaging to insects friendly to the gardener. The third weapon in the organic gardener's arsenal is Bacillus Thuringiensis, a bacterial disease that stops caterpillars from eating, and then kills them. It comes in a powder to be mixed with water and sprayed. It is sold under the trade names Dipel, Thuricide and Biotrol.

It should be emphasized that the recognition of the species of pests is crucial. The gardener should equip himself with literature, so that he can "know the enemy" before taking steps to control it.

Paperwork part of house purchase

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

The purchase of a house usually involves the preparation of at least three legal documents. They include an offer to purchase, a transfer of title to the land, and acceptance of the mortgage debt by the purchaser.

The offer to purchase is a written contract which states that the owner agrees to sell and the buyer to buy, and binds both parties to the agreed terms and conditions. It usually includes all necessary descriptions, the purchase price and terms of payment, the dates on which the deal is to be closed, and when the buyer will obtain possession of the house. In all this your lawyer will see that your interests are protected.

Your lawyer or notary will also search the title and is personally responsible to see that you have clear title to the land.

When closing the deal the purchaser is required to agree in writing to accept the mortgage debt unless, of course, he can pay for the property in cash.

Check out the housing standards

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

Residential Standards Canada is a supplement to the National Building Code published under the authority of the Associate Committee on the National Building Code, National Research Council. It is used by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for operations under the National Housing Act. The housing standards provide the minimum requirements for planning, construction and materials for house-building under the Act.

Most Canadian municipalities have accepted the National Building Code as the minimum standard for any construction within their area of jurisdiction. It is enforced through a municipal bylaw and the local authorities will not issue a building permit unless the bylaw is satisfied. Some municipalities require standards higher than prescribed in the Code. These also must be met. If you intend to build your own home check the plans with the local authorities to ensure they meet the required standards BEFORE you contract to build.

Safety hazards lurk all around the home

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

Let's face it, no household can be made perfectly safe. In any consideration of home safety, therefore, you must balance safety factors against those elements that make your house a liveable, humane environment.

Below are a few suggestions for making your home a safer place.

ENTRANCES

Steps or landings leading to your home should slope away from the entrance slightly -- about an eighth of an inch in 12 inches of depth -- to prevent water from standing or forming ice. There should be a porch or overhang to protect the entrance from rain and snow.

Glazed doors and panels can be a hazard to people who mistake them for an opening and walk into them. The use of safety-tempered or laminated glass guards against serious injury if this happens. Better still is a bar across the glass panel to prevent someone from colliding with it. If glass is used in a door at the bottom of a staircase, make sure the glass portion extends no lower than three feet from the bottom of the door. There is a real risk of someone falling down the stairs and into the glass, if it is too close to the bottom. If there is a glass panel at the bottom of stairs, there should be a bar across it that is strong enough to bear the impact of someone falling.

STAIRS

Falls on stairs are one of the most common causes of home accidents.

Open risers are particularly hazardous to small children and the elderly.

Adequate lighting on stairs is important, as is the positioning of that lighting. A light source at the top of stairs can cast dangerous shadows down the steps. Therefore light should be thrown towards the risers. It is also a good idea if possible, to have the edges of the steps contrast with the color of the rest of the steps. Avoid fancy floor surfaces or wall coverings that might cause dizziness on the stairs.

Handrails should be securely fixed and preferably should be provided on both sides of the staircase. A handrail should not exceed 2

5/8 inches in cross-section so it can be easily grasped by a small child or arthritic elderly persons. Large, rectangular handrails may look great, but they are hard to hold on to. Handrails should also be continuous, that is there should be no gaps in the rail that cause a person to break a handhold.

KITCHEN

The stove should be positioned so there is no danger of a door swinging open to hit a saucepan handle. If the stove is near a window, secure your curtains so they won't billow in the wind and contact a hot element or gas flame. There is also a danger that wind from a nearby window could extinguish a gas flame allowing gas to escape into the room.

Turn saucepan and frying pan handles out of the reach of curious youngsters. Every year children are burned when they accidentally tip hot water or grease over themselves.

The cupboard under the sink in many kitchens (and bathrooms too) is another potential danger spot for small children. Bleaches, polishes, drain cleaning fluids and other corrosive and poisonous materials are often stored there. These items should be stored where a child cannot get at them.

BATHROOMS

Poisoning is as great a hazard in the bathroom as in the kitchen. Your medicine cabinet should have a secure latch or preferably, be emptied of all hazardous products and medicines. (Even a few aspirins can poison a small child).

Where provincial codes permit switches or electrical receptacles inside the bathroom, they should be out of reach of a person in the bathtub.

The tub itself should have a non-slip bottom surface or be equipped with mats or other devices to provide secure footing.

Watch out for these home hazards

1. Glass panels or doors. Someone mistaking them for an opening can be seriously injured walking into them. Use safety-tempered or laminated glass.
2. A floor-level window at the foot of stairs. A sturdy barrier can prevent someone falling through it.
3. Extended pot handles. Turn the pots so curious youngsters cannot grab the handles and tip hot contents over themselves.
4. Medicines, cleaners, bleaches; polishes. Keep them out of the reach of small children.

Consider fragrance when planting herbs and flowers

Many gardening books and articles describe in great detail how you can beautify your home and garden with a well chosen selection of flowers of all types. While it is true that the most pleasure from a flower garden is derived from the visual enjoyment of the extremely colorful and pretty flowers, there is also another very important and exciting dimension that is seldom publicized.

There is really nothing that can compare with the sheer enjoyment that you can easily and readily achieve by including in your garden a selection of fragrant flowers or aromatic herbs. This is particularly true during the evening and at night when flower fragrance is most often at its peak and when it is too dark to see the beauty aspect of your flowerbeds. Air movement and humidity also affect the degree of fragrance of flowers. You will discover that in most cases your flowers will be most fragrant and your herbs most aromatic when the humidity is high and the air is still.

When planning your garden it is best if you strategically place your fragrant flower plantings so that they will provide you with the greatest amount of pleasure. Some locations which should be considered are under a window or porch, along a walkway, and, of course, around your patio or balcony.

There are a number of fragrant flowers and aromatic herbs which are very easily grown from seed. Here are just a few of the more popular ones that are ideally suited for Canadian growing conditions.

tion, Dianthus (Pinks), Mignonette, Nasturtium, Petunias, Sweet Peas, Sweet William, Evening Scented, Stocks (Matthiola), Stocks - Regular types), Verbena.

AROMATIC HERBS

Basil (regular type), Basil (dark opal type), Lavender, Sage, Thyme.

It's best if you plant a selection of several types and in this way you get a wide variety of fragrance, some sweet, some spicy, some woody and some just hauntingly indescribable.

Drying food is neglected process

The wonders of modern technology can tend to give us tunnel vision, and it is becoming evident we are raising a generation that assumes corn is grown in Green Giant cans. However, there are alternatives to the ubiquitous canned and frozen foods, such as the venerable art of drying, which has been neglected in recent times.

Drying or dehydration is both an efficient and nutritious method of food storage. No freezer space is required and dried foods can either be eaten as is or reconstituted.

There are a number of methods of dehydration, covering both the primitive and the sophisticated. In warm weather, the sun provides a cheap and efficient means. In Alberta, however, time is limited so anyone planning this method must be prepared to take advantage of suitable conditions as soon as they arise.

Sun drying must be done on a day with minimal humidity, as humid conditions result in mould.

If the daytime temperature reaches 100 degrees Fahrenheit, get ready for drying. The best place to effect the process is a rooftop. Fruits or vegetable pieces should be placed so as to allow air to circulate freely on all sides. To accomplish this, place them on a frame covered with cheesecloth or nylon mesh. Do not use metal screening unless you like your food with a tinny taste. Do not allow food pieces to overlap or touch each other as mould will result from the contact. To avoid having insects or animals sample the goodies, prop up a loose covering of cheesecloth, making sure it does not touch the food. At nightfall or at the onset of damp weather, bring the trays or racks indoors.

The amount of the time required for drying outdoors depends on the thickness of the food slices, but it usually takes from two to three days in the sun. After drying, the finished product should be leathery and stiff, with only a slight springiness at the centre. Before testing, allow to cool.

OVEN CAN BE USED

Kitchen ovens can be used to dehydrate foods but an oven thermometer other than the one on the oven is necessary to ensure that the temperature does not exceed 140 degrees Fahrenheit. (Most oven dials do not record temperatures below 200 degrees). Leave the door slightly open to allow moisture to escape. The process takes from 4-12 hours. If the pieces are large enough, food can be placed directly on oven racks. If it tends to slip through, use cheesecloth to cover the racks. Process about five pounds of food at a time.

Once these methods have been attempted, you may wish to begin a larger scale operation by using an indoor dehydrator. These retain food colour, flavour and vitamin content better than sun drying. They are available commercially and cost between $100-200.

Balcony & patio gardening delights

Recently there has been an ever increasing interest in patio type flower and vegetable gardening. Hanging baskets, planter tubs and window boxes have become extremely popular with both homeowners and apartment dwellers alike.

It's easy to see why, as most of the newer planter pots and macrame holders are extremely attractive and add a great deal to any balcony or patio decor.

For the most part HANGING BASKETS are generally used for flower plantings. There is an excellent selection available of flower types and varieties that are ideally suited for this special type of gardening. Some of the better ones are:

FOR SUNNY AREAS

Alyssum - both white and purple types; Marigold - dwarf French types; Zinnias - dwarf Pom-pom types; Geranium - now available in an excellent range of colors; Lobelia - trailing types can be planted on the outside edges of the pot so the vines will trail down over the edges; Petunia - always extremely popular.

FOR PARTIALLY SHADED AREAS

Begonias - both large flowered tuberous types and small flowered wax begonia types; Coleus - available in a large selection of bright colors and leaf types; Impatiens - quickly becoming very popular here in Canada; Pansy and Viola - available in a wide selection of colors.

The same flower varieties are ideally suited for most WINDOW BOXES and PL-ANTER TUBS as well. It's a good idea to plant your flowers a little closer than normal in planter tubs and window boxes in order to achieve the maximum color effect.

Over the last year or so many planter tubs have been turned into MINIATURE VEGETABLE GARDENS with excellent results. Most recently there has been a host of new vegetable types developed that are ideally suited for this particular purpose. Some of these are: Tomato - Tiny Tim and Patio; Cucumber - Patio Pick; Carrot and, of course, many HERBS such as Thyme, Sage and Chives.

- Gourmet Parisienne; Endive - Green Curled; Lettuce - Buttercrunch.

Balcony and Patio gardening can be lots of fun and it's so easy to get started. All you require is any kind of growing tub, a light soil mixture and a few seeds.

Once you have experimented with balcony and patio grown flowers and vegetables you will probably find it will become for you an amazingly interesting little gardening hobby.

Mortgage insurance protects lenders

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

When you borrow mortgage money under the National Building Act, either from a lending institution or direct from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, you pay an insurance fee. This fee helps operate a Mortgage Insurance Fund which protects lenders against loss by default on the loans they make.

Where the loan is to be advanced in instalments the fee is one percent of the total loan amount. However, if the full amount is to be paid in a lump sum on completion, the fee is reduced to seven-eighths of one percent.

Payment of this fee does not require an additional amount of initial cash on the part of the borrower as it is added to the approved loan and is repaid as part of the regular monthly payments.

This type of insurance in no way relieves the borrower of his obligation to meet the mortgage payments.

Insurance of this type must not be confused with mortgage life insurance which provides for payment of the outstanding balance in case of death of the mortgagor. Mortgage life insurance, if desired, may be obtained from most life insurance companies.

Water - the enemy of a house

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

Canada has more fresh water per capita than any country in the world. Canadians are pleased with this - until this abundant commodity turns up unwanted inside the home where it can do untold damage. Water, moisture, condensation - call it what you will - is probably the homeowner's worst enemy. The only recourse is to make sure that the house's external and internal defences are adequate in the first place and are kept in good repair.

In most cases the major problem results from faulty weatherproofing. Leaky roofs and basements are the main weak spots followed by improperly fitting doors and windows. Don't wait for trouble to develop. Set up routine checks on the more vulnerable areas, make the necessary repairs and you can rest assured that your house will be snug in any kind of weather. The following checklist will help:

- check the roof for damaged, loose or missing shingles
  - examine all flashing and seal it with caulking
  - renail loose siding; replace rotted areas; repair if required
  - check the fit of all outside doors including garage; check weather stripping
  - renew putty around windows where necessary
  - make sure roof ventilators are clear; check that exhaust fans if installed, are working properly; examine chimney cap and condition of chimney.
- Most problems with wet basements are caused by lot grading that directs surface water towards the house instead of away from it. When this water builds up a head it will find its way into your cellar, even through minute hair-line cracks.

ALTER THE SLOPE

The solution is to make sure the ground slopes away from the house, even if it means piling earth up a little higher than you would like it to be. If you don't have any water around your house you probably won't have a problem.

Severe basement flooding is frequently the result of cracked foundations, poor dampproofing and improper installation of weeping tiles. To correct these faults usually requires the services of experts.

High levels of condensation in attics, on walls and

Good grading helps keep house dry

A properly graded lot can go a long way to keeping the basement of a house dry. The illustration above shows a house where the land has been graded to slope away from the house on all sides. Water would drain away in the directions indicated by the arrows.

around window frames can cause staining of drapes, rugs and paint work.

Just like you, a house needs to breathe. If it can't then the vapor, or steam, from cooking, dishwashing, bathing and showers condenses on cold windows and walls.

There are various ways to eliminate excess humidity. If you have a humidifier, turn it down or off. Excess moisture in kitchens or bathrooms can be drawn off with exhaust fans. Dehumidifiers and air conditioners are other alternatives.

But there is a simple, effective method which is often overlooked. And it costs nothing. Open doors and windows regularly to let humidity escape. Even in winter you can open one or two windows a crack without wasting heat.

Get rid of wet air to the great outdoors where it can do no harm. Try it. Let your house breathe.

Homegrown seed improves quality

Does the thought of planting your own homegrown seed appeal to you? It makes sense, as well as cents, because by planting the seeds from the largest, or earliest, or whatever quality you're seeking in a particular vegetable, you continually improve the lines. If it sounds difficult, take heart! Once you know the basics, you'll get better at it every year.

The first rule is: buy good seed to start your venture: no hybrid seed as hybrids don't breed true to their two pure-bred parents. So, don't expect the size you find in a hybrid.

For TOMATOES: From the first vine-ripened tomatoes (in our climate, we're looking for the 'fast' tomatoes so that's what we try to improve in the seed production), scoop out the seeds and the pulp around them. Put the pulp-seed mixture in a drinking glass, or any non-metallic container. Within 2-4 days the jelly-like pulp that surrounded each seed will have fermented and will be a thin liquid. The seeds will be at the bottom of the container with the clear liquid on top.

Wash the seeds by filling the container with cool water, let the seeds settle and drain off the water. Repeat this washing several times, then spread the seeds on a paper towel, one layer deep, to dry. A sunny window is great. Don't put them in the oven to hurry the process, as you could damage the seed.

Within 2-3 days (leave them longer if you're not sure) the seed is dry. Put it in a baby food jar, or some other airtight container. Be sure you label the jar, stating the variety and year it was gathered. Tomato seeds are like most vegetable seeds: they retain their viability best when stored under cold dry conditions. Freezing has been found to increase vigor in the resulting tomato seedlings.

Alberta weightlifting championship proves Commonwealth gold potential

Spectators attending the Alberta Weightlifting Championships held at Sir George Simpson could very well have witnessed a preview to Commonwealth gold medal performances by two area residents.

In the featherweight division (up to 132 lbs.) Darrell Schultz of Namao set a Canadian record in the clean and jerk with a lift of 137.5 kilos (303 lbs.). The record was previously held by Yves Carignan of Quebec and is only 11 lbs. short of the Commonwealth record.

Even better is the fact Darrell was not peaking for the event as the Canadian Nationals are coming up next month in Moncton.

Eric Rogers, who lives with Darrell and his wife at Namao, is also very close to a Commonwealth record and stands to do very well in August. He equalled his own provincial record in the clean and jerk in the lightweight division and lifted a total of 555 lbs. for the Olympic lift.

Eric and Darrell who are on the Canadian team will both be competing on the Saturday during the Games. Tickets have sold well for all other days of the weightlifting but for some reason there are still many left for Saturday.

Three other lifters also qualified for the National in Moncton as well as setting provincial marks.

Jim Czelenski set an Alberta Senior Record in the Bantam weight clean and jerk at 107.5 kilos (236 lbs.). He also topped the weight class with an Olympic lift total of 407 lbs.

Herb Karch, who was edged out in the Light Heavyweight division by Chuck Klaver, snatched 147.5 kilos (325 lbs.) to set a new provincial mark and earn the right to compete in the Nationals.

Klaver's total was 567 lbs. to earn him the right to go to Moncton.

The second oldest man in the tournament, Dennis Hillman, set two provincial marks with a two hand snatch of 95 kilos and a clean and jerk of 120 kilos. Other Provincial champions are:

Flyweight - Trent Bessett (242 lbs.), Middleweight - Peter Redweik (499 lbs.), Middle Heavyweight - Tim

Carlyle-Bell (451 lbs.), 2nd Heavyweight - Dresden Archibald - 473 lbs.

The youngest man on the meet was Jim Carr at 15 and the oldest Fred Ketterer who is 47.

Hercules soccer directors vote to form St. Albert zone

Faced with a choice of registering all teams with the Edmonton Minor Soccer Association and paying for the right to do so, soccer directors of the St. Albert and District Hercules Minor Soccer Association voted to register with the Alberta Soccer Association as a separate zone.

Edmonton was really not all that interested in having St. Albert take part in their program following successive years of being outplayed by St. Albert teams.

St. Albert teams will now play within their own league here in the city with Allstar teams chosen early in the season to represent us in provincial competition at the various levels. The allstar players will be spread evenly among house league teams for regular season play.

This year soccer registrations have continued their remarkable growth and will soon rival hockey for the most popular sport. 850 boys and girls have registered for play this year.

The midget boys will all play on one team in the N.E. Edmonton zone and as such are the only team who will play outside of St. Albert in regular season play. Any overflow players from this team will accommodate in the bantam house league.

The Gazette will carry standings and news of the weeks play in all divisions this year much like Kinsmen Minor Hockey is reported on during the winter. League play is scheduled to commence in early May.

Peewee representative team tryouts will go this Saturday at Sir George Simpson field from 10 a.m. to noon. All boys born in '66 and '67 who would like to play for the team are asked to show up. More information can be had by calling 459-4916.

Saints spring camp this weekend

St. Albert Junior Saints hockey club, second place finishers in the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League are holding a two-day camp this weekend for players interested in playing for the team this fall.

All players 20 and under are invited to attend the camp which opens Saturday morning at 9 a.m. in the new Akinsdale Arena on Hebert Road, three blocks east of the St. Albert Trail.

Players wishing to attend should be fully dressed and ready to go at 9 a.m. Please supply your own equipment.

Saints coach, Doug Messier is hoping enough boys for six teams will attend so that a fun tournament can be drawn up.

Sunday at about 6 p.m., it will be a one hour game between last year's Saints which will be split into two teams.

Saints are hoping that a good number of St. Albert and district players in the midget age group will be out and hopefully half a dozen would make the team this fall.

Deadline for hockey uniforms

All midget hockey players are advised that Saturday will be their last chance to turn in their sweaters and socks if they wish to get back the $20 deposit they paid early in the season.

Uniforms can be turned in between 10 and 12 a.m. at the Kinsmen garage, located in the City of St. Albert public works yard on Riel Drive.

All other persons who have Kinsmen jerseys and socks can also drop them off at the same hours on Saturday.

the Sun Devils to victory in game one of the best-of-three final in the Edmonton Floor Hockey League.

The Barbarians were just no match for the 'shining' play of forwards George (Little G) Coward and Wayne (Norm) Biggs who combined on the Sun Devils first goal on route to a 5 - 3 win.

The Barbarians will give it another try Thursday, but, sources close to the Sun Devils say Coward and Biggs are so hot it is really pointless for the Barbarians to show.

It's all pretty difficult to imagine when one considers they cheer for those pitiful excuses for hockey teams - the Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers.

Pro fastball again in Edmonton

The Western Major Fastball League will again have a franchise to operate in Edmonton with Lang's replacing last year's Aacro's Royals.

Veteran Ken Knowles will remain as coach with help from Lloyd Hicks who was a player with Weyburn Canadians when they won the Canadian championships in 1973.

take the third and deciding pee wee A league "finals" game in overtime. How? She dreamt it the night before the fateful game last Saturday in Fort Saskatchewan!

This series, the final of the long pee wee season in the Central Alberta Hockey League, got off to a strange start with the Fort whipping St. Albert 9-1, last Wednesday. Then, due mainly to the efforts of goalie Paul Burgess, Canadians prolonged the series by edging the Nickel Kings 2-1 Thursday night, in St. Albert. The deciding match was a really super example of minor hockey at its best, with Kings taking it 3-2 in the first overtime period.

The first game began just like all the other close games between these clubs this year and, although they outshot the Fort and had several good chances, Canadians came out of the first period in a 0-0 tie. Disaster struck in the latter part of the second frame as defensive errors, poor checking, and a lack of the "big save" allowed the Nickel Kings to bang in four goals. The third period was more of the same, and St. Albert seemed to cave in under the pressure, giving up five more goals. Canadians' only goal this game came from John Lenz.

The second game began with St. Albert starting well, looking for a comeback. After only 44 seconds, Tony Baller and Tim Sebastian set up Emmanuel Viveiros for the opening goal. With five minutes left, Darryn Ernest put St. Albert two ahead from a goalmouth scramble, assisted by Tony Rouault and Erin Oor. Close checking by Canadians seemed to make the big difference. During the second period, Fort's only goal came on a two man break. In this, and the scoreless third period, goalie Paul Burgess was a major factor in ensuring the close St. Albert win, as he repeatedly stymied Nickel King efforts, including several breakaways.

The third game deservedly belonged to the Nickel Kings, who held the edge in play throughout, except for part of the third period. Outshooting Canadians in all four periods (18-10, 13-8, 18-14, 8-7), their main success was in preventing St. Albert from good scoring opportunities. Goalie Chris Lane, smarting from the devastating first game of the series, got his revenge by repeatedly robbing the Fort and, for his efforts, was named as the game's second star by League Governor Al Laplante, who praised both teams in the post-game ceremonies for their excellent play and good sportsmanship.

Darryn Ernest put St. Albert into the lead with a strong individual effort as he out-raced Fort defensemen to a Craig Iseke clearing shot and neatly beat Kings' goalie, with 19 seconds left in the first period. The game's first star, Fort's Dosen, tied the game after five minutes of the third, on a powerplay. After a minute and a half of overtime, Kings went ahead on a two on one break play. However, 30 seconds later, Tony Rouault set up Canadians' Erin Oor, who picked a top corner to tie the score again.

The winner came from a goalmouth scramble, with four minutes left in the overtime period, and St. Albert just couldn't manage to get that one back.

Although the Fort never allowed Canadians to mount many serious scoring threats, the team played well and deserves credit for a good effort. Every player on the team, particularly in the final two games, had his moment of excellent play, and, with the Provincials crown in their pockets, they can be justly proud of their season.

Oilers at home tonight for crucial game

Coach Glen Sather and his squad will have their hands full tonight when the Oilers try to get back into the picture in their best-of-seven quarter final with the New England Whalers.

Whalers have a two-game lead as a result of a 6-4 win Friday and 4-1 Sunday night victory in New England.

Sunday's game had Sather disappointed at his players' performance but his real beef was with the officiating of referee Bill Friday. Sather's quotes following Friday's disallowing of a goal will no doubt see his pocketbook a little short, as fines will probably be handed out by the league.

Oilers had some excellent scoring opportunities but Whaler goaltender Louie Levasseur stopped all but Blair MacDonald's second period goal.

In other W.H.A. quarter final action, Winnipeg Jets have a 2-0 lead in games over Birmingham Bulls as a result of 9-3 and 8-3 wins.

Houston Aeros upset Quebec Nordiques 4-3 in overtime to take a one-game lead in that series.

Whalers will be here Friday night for the fourth game of the series with Edmonton.

Curling club awards banquet draws large crowd

The St. Albert Curling Club honoured their victorious rinks, said appreciative goodbyes to valued workers and finished their annual banquet with a lively dance on Saturday evening. The event attracted a large crowd of 260 at the Club Mocombo, and the program was chaired by club manager Bill Hite, who is retiring after two years.

A touch of class was added to the banquet by way of background music by Shauna Hite at the piano, whose contributions, ranging from the classics, some pop favourites and the theme from Sting, were enthusiastically received.

The four major awards, Club Champions, President's Cup, Premier Men's League and Mixed Club Champions, went to the Lawrence Truckey, Bob Smith, Al Edwards and Gerry Fisher rinks respectively.

President Dave Berezan presented the Club Championship trophy to Lawrence Truckey, Geoff Gonnet, Paul Rosluk and John Spreen. Four rinks from each league division play off for the championship: A and B Square Draw, C section and the two Tuesday men's leagues. Last year's winner was the Roger Comeau rink.

Mr. Berezan also presented the President's Cup to Bob Smith, Brad Kreiser, Gary Maxwell and Grant Brooks. The four rinks from A, B and C sections in the square draw who have accumulated the most points are eligible and these 12 teams play off for the cup. Last year's winner was the Barry Ainslie rink.

Brent Hodgins presented the St. Albert Tire and Auto Repair Silver Trays award to Al Edwards, Rod Gaufr, Brian Kupsch, John Wainwright and fifth man Bruce Ferguson. Last year's winner was the R. Comeau rink. The Premier award goes to the Tuesday night competitive curling section winner.

Hector Gervais made the trophy presentation to Mixed Champions, Gerry Fisher, Shirley Fisher, Harlan Schultz and Karen Schultz. The Dave Raymer rink won last year.

BIG NIGHT FOR TRUCKEY RINK

The Truckey rink also won the A section in the square draw, with Bob McMaster presenting the trophy. They won this award last year as well. And the rink won the new Webb Hardware trophy, presented for the first time this year for the men's aggregate points winner. As club champions the Truckey rink went into the Genstar Tournament of Champions and were a finalist in that event.

Master of Ceremonies Bill Hite introduced the head table Gerry and Shirley Fisher, Mayor Ron Harvey and Mrs. Harvey, Dave and Mrs. Berezan, Mrs. Hite, MLA Ernie Jamison and Mrs. Jamison and Bill Fisher and Mrs. Fisher. He also introduced some special guests in the reserved section, starting with Laurie and Ray Kremer - "the man responsible for our great ice," which drew a standing ovation from the crowd. Bill and Helen Murray, Babe and Mrs. McAvoy, Barry and Mrs. Booth, Hector and Helen Gervais, Casey and Betty Anderson and Bill and Marg Penrose, former residents now in B.C. who were ardent supporters of the curling club in earlier years.

"Mom and Pop" Fisher, retiring after four years of service in the rink concession were presented with a radio for their holiday camper on behalf of the club, and were commended for their long hours and excellent management, drawing prolonged applause. Both thanked the club and said they enjoyed their association with "all the wonderful curling people." "But it's still 'No Boots On the Tables'," said Jane Gerri Stout and Germaine Fleury, who are taking over the concession were introduced.

On behalf of the Club President Dave Berezan presented a gift of luggage and a handsome plaque to Bill Hite, retiring manager. The enthusiastic response to Dave's praise of the truly fine job done by Mr. Hite over his two-year term was evidence of the esteem in which he is held. Mr. McEvoy of Hiram Walker presented Bill with a very lovely silver tray as well.

The Ray Osborne rink, winners of the NACA Seniors, were presented with their trophies by Hector Gervais. The friendly giant also recognized the ladies rinks who were zone winners and received their awards at the Ladies Club wind-up. The Betty Anderson rink won the Seniors event and the Bunny Porowski rink won the Ladies Zone competition. Hector also recognized the good showing of the Junior Women's entry, skipped by Joanne Tainsch, and the Anita Hunter rink who won the Northern Alberta Curling Association bonspiel.

Gerry Fisher and Casey Anderson, retiring directors, both of whom have served as president and have worked many years with the club were complimented along with other retiring directors, Bill Webb, Bill Murray, Jim Lait and Roger Comeau.

Trophies for winners in the Mixed League were presented by Director Glen Ward to the Stu Rattray rink (Wednesday Mixed), Glen Thorburn rink (Thursday Mixed), Barrie Findlater rink (Saturday mixed Section A), Jim Mountain rink (Saturday A), Gary Bauer rink (Sunday A) and the Lorne Hamm rink (Section B).

Awards in the Men's League Sections were presented by Bob McMaster to the L. Truckey rink (A Section), the Jim Lait rink (B) and the Larry Dupilka Rink (C).

Hoffart wins Provincial free-throw final

Pressure shooting in overtime gave Marty Hoffart, a grade eight student at V.J. Maloney Junior High, the provincial Knights of Columbus Free-throw championship held at Archbishop O'Leary on Saturday.

Jackie Grinnel of Albert Lacombe also made it to the final.

Marty and his opponent were tied after 20 throws forcing a five-shot overtime. Both shooters sunk one of five attempts setting up another five-shot playoff.

Divers in competition for Canada Cup

For the first time Edmonton will be hosting the Canada Cup International Diving Championships on April 21, 22 and 23, 1978.

The first Canada Cup was held in Winnipeg several years ago. It was started as an invitational meet to upgrade Canada's competitive diving program.

Invited were some of USA's top divers and a team from Mexico as well. Within a few years several Olympic Champions from all over the world were competing with our Canadian athletes. (People such as Micki King - USA 1972 3M gold medalist, Phil Boggs - USA 1976 3M gold medalist, Klaus Dibiasi - Italy 1968, 1972, 1976 10M gold medalist, Milena Duchkova - Czechoslovakia 1968 10M gold medalist, Vladimir Vassin - USSR 1972 3m gold medalist).

To our delight, Canada's females (Beverly Boys, Liz Carruthers, Cindy Shatto, Nancy Robertson, Teri York) were on the top.

The Canada Cup has since become one of the most prestigious events in the world of diving. It was the initiator of the CAN-AM-MEX Tri-country competitions and tour held in Canada, Mexico, and USA -- following the Canada Cup.

During the week prior to the competition a special training camp will take place. Participating will be the Junior National Team and a team of Alberta divers specially chosen. Mr. Hobie Billingsley, 1972 USA Olympic coach, will be the guest coach.

This year 20 countries have been invited and we're looking forward to an exciting display of diving from the world's best divers.

Two St. Albert teams in Norwest Midget Baseball League

St. Albert will be well represented in the second year operation of the Norwest Midget Baseball League. A second team, known as the Cardinals, will give local baseball fans a choice this year who to "root" for. The Willowbrook Saints, after two successful years of operation, will be back giving St. Albert two midget teams for probably the first time ever. Barrhead, Spruce Grove, and Fort Saskatchewan have made applications to enter this year, and it is hoped the balance of the eight team league will be comprised of clubs from Stony Plain, Riviere Qui Barre, and Wabamun.

Although the strength of teams is a secondary matter when it comes to minor league sports, rumours have Barrhead is going to be tough to beat. They have lost only a couple of players from last years crew, who the Saints barely managed to oust in a close series on the way to the Alberta Summer Games.

Spruce Grove could also be "sleeper," as Manager

Pete Salisny always has a few good tricks up his sleeve. Fort Saskatchewan had a young team last year, so they will improve by quite a margin.

Although April has so far been a month of snowballs rather than baseballs, the league will commence its schedule in early May, with St. Albert home games at the Mission diamond.

A PEEK AT THE CARDINALS

Nucleus of team will be several members of last years bantam rep. club. Art Balog and Art Rechlo will give the Cardinals plenty of baseball knowledge from the management level.

They have some good young pitchers, and have added a few players of second year midget age. It all adds up to an exciting year ahead for "Casey" and

"Billy."

IN THE SAINT DUGOUT

Manager Ben Tooth has eight returnees from last year, but the success of the Saints this year could depend on just how strong they will be on the mound. Tim Shipanoff and Byron Bailey have "inked contracts," but they will need a third member to round out the pitching staff, particularly in tournament action.

Frank Galbraith, Jack Greening, and Tom Parayko will be back to assist with coaching.

Positional Hockey ?

Positional that is, if everyone standing in one position chopping at the puck is how one wants to define it. Somehow the St. Albert Aarvarks came out of this game and went on to win the B side of the Funtimers Hockey Tournament. The tournament, held at the Akinsdale Arena Friday and Saturday is sponsored by another St. Albert team - the Seals. The Aardvarks won the B final 6-5 in overtime over Peter's Pizza from Spruce Grove. The Seals, on the other hand, didn't fair as well. They dropped games to the Stony Plain Goodtimers and the Aardvarks by identical 7-4 scores. Team spokesman, Barry Miller, blamed the losses on team collapses during the second period of each game, although he failed to elaborate on the reasons why. Perhaps they were just being good hosts? They did throw an excellent party for all involved Saturday night. Westwood Lumberjacks won the event 6-2 over the Calgary Pembroke Oldtimers.

Rugby expands in 25th year

Expansion would be the word to sum up the coming year for the sport of Rugby Football. The Edmonton Rugby Union has increased the number of Member Sides from 20 in 1977 to 31 in 1978. Two new clubs - The Edmonton Thunderbirds and Fort McMurray Knights - will join the Union to increase the Member Clubs in Edmonton to 9.

The Edmonton Rockers, the women's team formed last year to play exhibition games at Rugby Fest, is still active and expect strong opposition again this year.

The High School program has increased from seven schools to a total of 11. The Junior Program (Under 19) started last year will continue as well.

We plan to open our fifth playing field at Ellerslie Rugby Union Park to accommodate the increased number of games.

A very strong club side from France is confirmed to play the Alberta Selects at Ellerslie in early June. Also Rugby Fest promises to be Bigger and Better than ever.

soccer

Continued From Page 31 round out the six team league and they also need one more coach. If interested please give Dieter a call at 459-6597.

Hibernian, a Scottish First Division team will be playing the Edmonton Selects at Clarke Stadium on Sunday, May 28 at 2:30 p.m. It should be a very entertaining game.

Biological control of insects

Agriculture Canada scientists at Lethbridge, Alberta, are now a step closer to biological control of mosquitoes.

Joe Shemanchuk, an entomologist at the Lethbridge Research Station, is studying a fungus that is a parasite of some species of mosquito larvae. Although this fungus has been known to scientists for some time, researchers have now found a tiny aquatic creature that can act as an alternate host. Mr. Shemanchuk says the alternate aquatic host can be used to mass produce the fungus in the laboratory. Eventually the fungus can be seeded into mosquito ponds for field tests of this promising biological control agent.

St. Albert rafters plan race in conjunction with rodeo

Bob Miller, captain of the champion crew of rafters in 1977's first annual St. Albert Raft Race and chairman of the St. Albert Raft Race Committee, dropped by the Gazette to let us know this year's race will take place on the day of the Kinsmen Rodeo parade.

The finish line is at the new rodeo grounds on Riel Drive on the edge of Big Lake. If calculations are correct the rafts should just be polling across the finish when the parade has entered the Rodeo Grounds.

More trophies and more classes have been added to the race this year in anticipation of increased interest and a greater number of entrants. The main event will still be sponsored by Gerry Olson the founder of the race, and current secretary-treasurer of the St. Albert Raft Race Committee.

The committee has drafted a set of rules and regulations concerning the construction of rafts and the conduct of the race which will see a few changes from last year.

The captain of each raft must be a St. Albert resident and his out of city crew members must not outnumber resident crew members. No restriction on the number of crew members will be enforced.

The race starts at Cunningham Bridge (on the lake road west of St. Albert) portages the log jam on the Sturgeon River and crosses Big Lake to the Rodeo Grounds.

All rafts must be pulled this year or paddled with the poles in the manner of a canoe but rowing will not be permitted. Last year Bob Miller and his sons - Wayne, Keith and Paul - took first place on the strength of their rowing but will have to come up with a stronger effort under this year's rules.

Bob and family are planning to go back to their native Australia and would have left by now but feel they should stay until the race to collect two championships in a row.

The committee is looking for adult organizations to get involved by entering rafts (the captain must be over 21) in an effort to make the annual race a community affair. Regulations regarding the residency of crew members is aimed at keeping local participation at the maximum possible level.

Anyone who would like further information regarding rules, classes or registration can phone Bob at 459-8872.

Sturgeon Gazette

Namao new home of Sturgeon School Division

The Sturgeon School Division moved out from the MD of Sturgeon office building in Morinville over the weekend and is now based near the Sturgeon Composite High School at Namao in four portable classrooms.

Sturgeon Regional Recreation staff will be moving into the vacant office space from their former premises at the Cunningham school in Morinville.

The new number for the school division is 973-9121 for those who need the number. The school division's move to Namao is only temporary.

Meanwhile Plumb Construction has started a $429,122 facelift to the Cunningham school which will be turned over to the Sturgeon School Division #24, possibly September 1.

Renovations to the school are expected to cost $338,135 and should be completed by the end of August. About $60,900 will go to the construction of a school division maintenance shop on the site and $30,087 has been earmarked for a parking lot.

Assistant Superintendent for the Sturgeon School Division Walter Heppler told the Gazette the division was fine in its new headquarters and had lots of space. It would be using "the conference room in the high school for board meetings."

He pointed out that the cost of renovating the Cunningham school was not a final figure and that the board was still looking for some reductions.

Development appeal board for Sturgeon

When the MD of Sturgeon set up a development appeal board at its regular meeting last week, there seemed some reluctance on the part of some councillors to sit on the board.

The board consists of appointed chairman Lawrence Kluthe, who is also chairman of the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission, vice-chairman Clay Crozier, Councillor Glen Berry and alternate Councillor Walter Wolanski.

There was a fairly long discussion on the make-up of the board which can also have members appointed from the public.

"Once we set up an appeal board we have to get real good clarification on the rights of the appeal board," said Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn.

Mr. Flynn felt that because he had some "discussions" in development matters "makes me ineligible to sit on the appeal board."

The motion to set up the appeal board carried 6-1 with the reeve casting the opposing vote.

Mr. Flynn asked Mr. Kluthe if the appointment to the development appeal board would be in conflict "with your position on the commission."

"I should take the easy way out and say I see some conflict," Mr. Kluthe replied.

ANNUAL MEETING

The MD of Sturgeon has decided not to have an annual meeting for its rate-payers this year.

Sturgeon could have had the meeting before a March 31 deadline, but it has run into trouble in having the meeting this month because Please Turn to Page 40

Parents want busing, tuition agreement

A number of parents in the Cunningham school attendance area in Morinville, whose children are attending Thibault schools, are seeking a "satisfactory" tuition and busing agreement from the Sturgeon School Division #24.

They want the agreement to be signed by both the Thibault School Board and the Sturgeon board.

Parents made their wishes known last week when the Sturgeon school board met April 11 and said in a letter to the board: "We feel the board should honour the agreement we had accepted in lieu of land transfer in 1970."

Parents in the Cunningham attendance area are now having to bus their children to Thibault schools, i.e. Georges P. Vanier, the "Yellow school" and the new Notre Dame elementary and

Formerly the Sturgeon school division used to bus the students to the Cunningham School in Morinville, until the agreement with that division was cancelled. The Cunningham school awaits renovations so it can be used as Sturgeon School Division's main office from September 1.

A spokesman for the Sturgeon School Division said this week a joint meeting of the Sturgeon and Thibault boards is to meet April 25 to look into the busing and tuition problem.

Background information from school officials showed that the Thibault school division had formerly agreed to run their buses in Sturgeon "territory" and that parents had asked to have their land transferred into the Thibault district.

April 13 a delegation of 10, representing parents and students in the Cunningham attendance area attended the regular meeting of MD of Sturgeon #90, ostensibly inquiring about the pros and cons of a county over a municipal administration.

Spokeswoman for the delegation Jean Brenneis said the delegation was basically there for information on the difference between a county and municipal administration.

Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn explained it meant the amalgamation of the municipal administration and the school administration under one body.

"It would mean that the collecting authority would be the same as the paying authority," he said.

While at one point it seemed as if there might be a confrontation between the Please Turn to Page 40

Sturgeon spends $500,000 on vehicles

Following are some of the highlights of the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon, April 13 and 14.

THE MD OF STURGEON spent nearly half a million bucks in quick fashion Friday afternoon on two Ferguson graders ($130,000), a D7 cat, ($107,618) and a cat buggy 621 ($157,905), also a Keeton Mixer $57,000, for a total of $452,523.

JUST AFTER the regular meeting finished, MD councillors moved into the Sturgeon School Division offices to say a farewell to the division, which has just moved to four portables near the new Sturgeon Composite High School at Namao.

COUNCIL MOVED to the executive committee for a more specific recommendation. Please Turn to Page 40

First aid services seek growth, help

While ambulance services have been springing up all over the St. Albert and Sturgeon area in the past few years, moves to expand, improve and preserve the services already in existence still come to the fore.

At the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon in Morinville last week, there was a move to get the MD executive committee talking with Fort Saskatchewan on a proposed extension of the Fort's ambulance service into the MD of Sturgeon.

The Fort's service runs as a $24,000 private contract with one ambulance in the fleet and another as back-up and a letter to the MD says that the extension into the MD will be "straight forward."

The MD also dealt with a letter from the secretary of the St. John Ambulance Sturgeon area David Hutton, in connection with the Bon Accord based ambulance service.

In the letter Mr. Hutton said the service required funds to purchase more medical equipment. It was also operating at a net loss, council was told.

The Bon Accord service could only see more expenditures on the horizon because of more sophisticated training programs and the need for more equipment.

The MD were informed that the Bon Accord ambulance was being kept alive with bottle drives, auctions and dances.

The council seemed sympathetic to the plea from Bon Accord and a motion was carried to deal with the problem at the executive committee level.

It seems people have accepted that the ambulance services are here to stay.

As the MD secretary treasurer Gib Boddez was heard to say: "Morinville (its ambulance service) is going pretty steady, you hear it going whistle and hoot every day."

1978 town census still in the air

Morinville council made no decision April 11 on whether or not to take a population census for 1978.

The present population of the town according to a census taken last year is 2198.

Under a recently announced street improvement program started by the Alberta Government, Morinville and other towns in the province are eligible for a $30,000 grant for street improvements. Added to this an extra $60 per capita for the improvements.

The feeling among councillors was that it might better to wait till next year to take the census. There were likely to be more people in town and more advantage applying later for the street improvement grant.

SURPRISE!

... The R.C.'s had a little surprise for people in Redwater last Wednesday, as they set up a Check Stop on the main drag by the hospital. Mostly just routine equipment checks and driver's license checks took place. The Gazette Van went through the check stop unscathed except for a warning regarding a certain headlight that was not co-operating.

parents

MD and the delegation, the meeting fizzled into further discussion on the technicalities of county versus a municipal system.

Deputy Reeve Lawrence Kluthe said a plebiscite could be called for the county status. Then if people wanted to return to municipal status "in the fifth year," they could petition for a plebiscite and a "vote would decide if there would be a change in status."

Mrs. Brenneis asked what percentage would be required in the plebiscite. Reeve Flynn replied there was no set figure. "It would be well for an administration to know when applying (if) there was a certain number of people who wanted it," he said.

Mrs. Brenneis asked if the present administration would stay under a county system. Reeve Flynn replied there would be an amalgamation with seven or eight elected people representing both the school and the MD. He said divisions in the school system would have representation on the school committee.

MD councillor Walter Van de Walle, referring to a time when Legal seceded from the Sturgeon school division, said that then the question of representation was foremost (not the question of religion and language) "when Legal seceded from Sturgeon."

M.D.

tion how it plans to deal with the removal of old cars from private property in the MD of Sturgeon. The MD had just received a letter from Alberta Environment requesting some policy on derelict vehicle removal on sites throughout the province.

STURGEON COUNCIL may go for an 18 station phone intercom system instead of the present nine station system in use at the MD office. Negotiations are going ahead on the change to stop the crossing of phone lines during MD office phone answering business.

THE DIRECTOR OF ASSESSMENT Advisory Services from the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs Peter Klompas talked to the MD about assessment inspections, complaints about assessment and how to handle them. The discussion also touched on how to appoint members to a Court of Revision. Mr. Klompas also told the MD that the province's new assessment manual was coming along nicely and could be ready next year. Mr. Klompas advised the MD to carry on with the work on its general assessment this year and assured Reeve Flynn that the work the MD has done on its general assessment so far will not be lost.

THE MD RECEIVED A petition "with a whole slug of names on it" from what was termed "90 percent of the employees of Alberta Hospital." The petition requested a street light at the corner of Oliver Avenue East and the Old Fort Trail.

Council moved that the light should be placed at the point requested, but one councillor was heard to say: "Are we going to make a laughing stock of ourselves if we put a light there and it does not work?"

Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn said he thought the MD had better put the light there.

A MOTION THAT bills incurring legal expenses during the secession of Redwater from Thorhild county into Sturgeon should not be paid was carried. The motion was introduced from councillor for new division eight Walter Wolanski. A "breakaway" committee which dealt with the secession had incurred the legal expenses and was asking for reimbursement.

THE MD HAS A NEW water rate bylaw, (bylaw 289-78) which rescinds a previous bylaw. The new bylaw came into force when the MD came into the North East Waterline and includes all the water systems in the MD.

DEPUTY REEVE of the MD Lawrence Kluthe, chairman of the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission has been elected to stay as the MD's representative on the ERPC, with the alternate Councillor Clay Crozier.

THERE COULD BE CONSTRUCTION in early 1979 of an extension to the present RCMP building in the basement of the MD offices in Morinville. After this came up at the meeting, it was moved that the MD reeve and secretary treasurer sign an agreement for another year's accommodation for the RCMP in the police building.

THE MD IS still waiting for more information from Redwater before it decides on how much to fork out for a grant to Redwater Public Library. Apparently there is a survey being carried out to see how much the schools are making use of the library. "We should still await this information" said Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn.

IN STURGEON REGIONAL recreation business, there is likely to be a meeting June 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the MD office where Sturgeon ratepayers will be presented with the plans to develop the Cardiff Recreation Park.

Council also moved that $11,700 be moved as a budget item for five jobs under the Young Canada Works program.

The five jobs still require ministerial approval.

STURGEON CARRIED A motion to authorize the signing of the new fire agreement between itself and St. Albert. Council also gave third reading to bylaw 290-78, which covers the terms for fire protection on Sturgeon and St. Albert boundaries. Also included are the terms of joint use and control of fire fighting facilities in both municipalities.

The new agreement means that Sturgeon will cough up $57,000 for joint fire protection this year, with six months notice needed if there is any dispute about joint fire protection. Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn said the agreement had just come back from St. Albert and "it looks good."

COUNCIL DECIDED NOT to go just yet for a policy with Jubilee Insurance regarding wrongful Act liability. But the council will keep in touch with the firm on the matter, it was decided.

appeal

it cannot meet advertising deadlines.

Two weeks notice has to be given in the press to local ratepayers before Sturgeon can hold the meeting; by that time the MD would be looking at a further extension for the meeting, taking them into May.

Councillor Clay Crozier finally placed a motion that there should be no annual meeting this year.

One of the complications is that the MD is still sorting out the ramifications of the recent annexation of Redwater to the MD from Thorhild, and also it has not yet completed its financial statement.

The statement could be published in the Gazette later in the year.

Dairy Club

By David Westra

On Sunday, April 9 at Camilla School the Sturgeon Valley 4H Dairy Club held its demonstration competition. Judges Edith Kowalski and Eric Abell had a difficult decision to make, as all demonstrations were well done. Nearly all of the eight groups consisted of an older, a younger and a peewee member. Betty Kushak, Joey Hostyn and Ivan Foster placed first with their tropical fruit bowls; the bowls consisting of a hollowed-out watermelon and pineapple. Second place went to Linda, Christine and Maureen Kushak with their calorie-filled banana split.

A brief meeting followed, with the club deciding to participate in the May 6 highway clean-up, for which the government pays the club $8 per mile. After further business was discussed lunch was served by the Majeau family, hosts for the afternoon.

TOUR DAY HELD

Our tour day was held April 15. Tour consists of a visit to each members' farm to see the club calves to be used on Achievement Day and to see how well they can lead. There was also a judging competition at Cam Quweck's farm at Bruderheim. Points are given to each member for all these different events and are tallied up for the awards and distributed at the banquet at the end of the club year. Achievement Day, to be held at the Gibbons Agri-Fair on June 17, is the day our calves show their potential, but the individual members compete all year.

And those are workhorses, too. Because the MF 1855 has a twin cylinder 18 hp engine to deliver more torque for more usable, working power. 54"-wide trim-line mowers practically eliminate skips and scalps and make short work of cutting grass or weeds. And the MF infinite range Hydra-Speed hydrostatic transmission works along with a "memory" (we'll explain that when you get here) to help you save time on a lot of heavy jobs. See our full line of 8-18 hp lawn and garden tractors. And put more usable power to work 'round your place.

BISHOP JOHN BOKENFOHR, O.M.I.

Bishop celebrates Silver Jubilee

Bishop John Bokenfohr, O.M.I. was born January 28, 1903 in Westpoint, Nebraska. He moved to St. Albert, Alberta in December 1903 with his parents at the age of 11 months. Now, at 75 years of age, he looks back on 25 years as a Bishop.

He attended Boulais School at Volmer, Morinville and subsequently St. John's College, Edmonton prior to entering seminary at St. John's. He went to Montreal to study during his Scholastic training and joined the Oblates of Mary Immaculate - the Alberta Saskatchewan German Province. On July 10, 1927 he was ordained a priest in Lebreton Saskatchewan with both parents present.

He then taught high school for one year and was named "Bursar." He joined the Missionary Band and went with Father Schultze, "The Flying Priest" right across Canada, North West Territories and the United States.

He was subsequently made Provincial of the O.M.I. Alberta Saskatchewan German Province 1937-1949, he resided at St. Mary's Church in Regina but worked throughout the area. He was instrumental in a fund raising program to build St. Thomas College. Just after the college was completed in 1949 he was elected first assistant of the Oblates and held this post at the General House in Rome in 1949 to 1953.

On May 3, 1953 he was consecrated a Bishop in Rome for the Diocese of Kimberly, South Africa. He was the first Bishop of this Diocese and remained a Bishop until poor health forced his retirement in 1973.

He now resides in Cornwall, Ontario and on July 10, 1977 celebrated his 50th Jubilee as a Priest in Cornwall, Ontario. On May 3, 1978 he will be celebrating his Silver Jubilee of his consecration as a Bishop. This celebration is being hosted by the Parish of St. Albert and the family of Bishop Bokenfohr. A Mass will be concelebrated in the St. Albert Church at 7 p.m. followed by a reception at Newman Theological College (St. Joseph's Seminary).

Anyone who wishes to join in the celebration is invited to come.

Rescue squad has busy week

By Sadie Allen
A C.B. radio report on Saturday evening led the RCMP to call out the Bon Accord - Gibbons rescue squad and the paramedic and rescue services of the City of St. Albert to a supposed five car pile-up on Highway 28 near Namao. The Bon Accord squad responded its ambulance together with four of the squads technicians for what seemed to be a minor disaster. The report was either a hoax or misinformation.

Closer to home that same evening, just as the ambulance had been put back into the fire hall, a Bon Accord resident had to be taken to the Sturgeon General Hospital with suspected heart complications.

On Friday morning, April 14, a stolen car chased by the RCMP ended up in the ditch north of Gibbons. After a confused emergency call on 921-3777, in which the ambulance was called and then cancelled, the squad went out anyway as is their standard policy in calls of that nature. However the driver of the stolen car walked over and surrendered himself to the RCMP. The stolen car was completely destroyed in the roll-over.

These calls brought the total for the week up to five, bringing the total number of emergency responses since the new ambulance came into operation in October 1977, to well over one hundred. The squad with 13 trained emergency volunteers and a further 11 drivers, still has to collect bottles, hold dances, and sell first aid kits to pay for the equipment that it needs. The volunteers do not receive any remuneration for their time, the government does not give grants, and the MD does not donate monies to the service. The town of Gibbons is the only municipality to donate a sizeable amount to the service.

CAN YOU REALLY AFFORD TO GIVE WILD OATS A HEAD START?

Pre-emergent Avadex® BW controls wild oats before they steal moisture and nutrients from your crop.

Increase yield with Avadex® BW

Source: Bowden & Friesen (1967) University of Manitoba

As you can see, there's a lot to be gained by controlling wild oats before they break ground. And pre-emergent Avadex® BW herbicide by Monsanto does just that. Avadex BW is absorbed directly by young wild oat shoots, before they get a chance to do their worst damage.

Bear in mind, too, that post-emergent treatments must be made at a certain wild oat leaf stage, which can be tricky in bad weather.

30% more wheat* with Avadex BW

In a wide variety of test plot studies, wild oat infested crops treated with pre-emergent Avadex BW yielded 30% more wheat on the average than untreated fields. This is due to an impressive 90% + rate of control effective, early-season control.

Get the jump on wild oats in 7 crops.

Pre-emergent Avadex BW is just as effective in barley, flax, rapeseed, dry peas, sugarbeets and mustard as it is in wheat.

*Actual results may vary depending on use conditions.

Just incorporate liquid Avadex BW immediately after spraying. And to check for results, use an untreated check strip, or dig up the evidence of dead or dying wild oat shoots from a treated strip.

You'll find that without a head start, wild oats can be a lot less successful at robbing your yields. Always read and follow the label directions for Avadex BW.

McNeillys' celebrate golden anniversary

By Norma Crozier
Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNeilly of Westlock, Alberta, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on April 2, 1978, when 300 friends and relatives honored them at an "open house" held in the Namao Community Hall. Now retired, they make their home in Westlock, but lived for many years at Namao.

Robert McNeilly was born in Belfast, Ireland and journeyed by boat to Canada in 1913 with his mother, brother and sister, to join his father who had left Ireland in 1911. Landing in Montreal they were travelling west by train when the train left the tracks and his mother and brother were killed. Robert and his sister later joined their father in Edmonton where he operated a store.

Robert married Alma McNeil on April 4, 1928 and with their two young sons, Robert C. and Ernest (Bud) they came to Namao to operate the store which they later bought. Here their daughter, Alberta (Peggy) was born. After operating the store for 18 years they sold it to John McNeilly, a half brother, and moved to Victoria, B.C. Here they bought a store and auto court but after eight years, due to poor health they turned the operation over to their son Bud and returned to their farm at Namao to live a retired life.

While in Victoria they completed their family, adopting a little girl Sharon. In June 1969 they were saddened by the loss of their oldest son, Robert Jr.

In 1971 they sold the farm at Namao and moved to an acreage at Meanook where they lived for the next three years before moving to another farm east of Athabasca for a short period. Moving again to an acreage west of Clyde Corner they spent three years before moving to their present home in the town of Westlock.

BRIDESMAID IN ATTENDANCE

Present for the occasion was the bridesmaid of the wedding 50 years ago, Robert's sister, Mrs. Margaret Nicols and her husband Bert, of Wabamun, Alberta. Also attending was their family, Bud and his wife Barbara from Victoria, B.C., Peggy and her husband Joe Shwaga and daughters Lynn and Cindy from Westlock, Alberta; Sharon and her husband, Rick Acres and children Claudine and Robert from Port Alberni, B.C., and Robert Jr.'s wife Molly McNeilly and Dale of St. Albert, Alberta.

Congratulatory anniversary greetings were presented from Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, Premier Peter Lougheed and Lt. Governor Ralph Steinhauer.

Following the afternoon party a family dinner was hosted for the honored couple by Mr. and Mrs. John McNeilly at their home.

Heritage Lake

topic of rec. board meeting

The Morinville Recreation Board held their regular meeting on April 6 in the Historical and Cultural Centre.

Ken Ziet and Ray MacIlwicky, from the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Government of Alberta were in attendance regarding Heritage Lake.

The Board's first concern is the stabilizing of the lake. The erosion of the east bank and the presence vehicles too near the shore is of prime concern.

Names have been proposed from the survey for the formation of a tennis club and soccer club. Interested parties may contact Bert Ouellette at 939-4594 for information about tennis and Carl Royan at 939-4296 or Jim Newman of the Regional Recreation office regarding soccer. Clubs must be formed before further planning can be implemented.

PARKS PLAN NEARS COMPLETION

The Master Parks Plan is nearing completion. The committee is hopeful that this plan will give us a good foundation for future planning. Several Sunday morning meetings have gone into this plan.

Your Recreation Board is here to assist, not to compete with groups. Co-operation is our first concern. At the present time the board consists of Maureen Campbell, chairwoman; Sherry Taylor, secretary; Dr. Paul Underwood, liaison with Regional Recreation Board; Tim Kane, Ed Barr, Elsley Tally, and Rhonda Stapleton. There is one vacancy at present. One member of council attends on request.

All persons interested in recreation for the community, please feel free to call on any member of the board.

Pauline Pike started painting 15 years ago in British Columbia. She is mostly self-taught and works in watercolour, acrylics and oils with landscapes as her favorite subject. She has had exhibits in the Quesnell Art Society Gallery in Quesnell and the Gordon Galleries in Prince George. She moved to Alberta two years ago and her paintings were displayed by the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild last year.

It is hoped that there will be a continuing display of paintings at the Library to give the public an opportunity to enjoy the work of other artists living in the area.

No. 176 Legion News

By Cam Dubord

Welcome back friends and neighbours. After a lengthy absence, we have been busy in and around town.

As most of you know the bingos are still going strong. The jackpot has not been won on this series as yet and we will be on the 58th number at $370. In addition, there is the bonanza which seems to be getting bigger every week and the half the house. So come on out on Thursday evening to the Recreational Centre. Doors open at 7 p.m. and the bingo starts at 8 p.m. Yes, we could use some more helpers among the legion members.

On the evening of April 12 at 8 p.m., a great event took place at the Legion Hall. The Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion #176 was re-activated after being inactive for a number of years. The event was chaired by a few old members from the past who have kept up their dues. Mrs. Pat Krauskopf, and past president Mrs. Audrey Borle, and Mrs. Joe Calder were assisted by the District Commander, Mrs. Kay Rossiter, accompanied by her husband Mr. Percy Rossiter of St. Albert. Twelve new members were initiated, namely Mrs. Anne Jodbro, Jean Beaupre, Judy Clarke, Mrs. E. Tally, Pearl Wilding, Jean Snyder, Lynne Hudson, Barbara Tailleux, Georgina Davies, Dorothy Dubord, Carol Leblanc, Sharon Barker. Some of the older members from the past are Mrs. Mark Saffin, Vicky Saffin, Myrtle Kreway, Kathy Gordon, Eileen Lafreniere, Mabel Goed, Irma Bulger, Dorothy Pelletier, Lucy McLennan, Lorrette Craig, Yvonne Vranas, Audrey Borle, Pauline Skinkowy. Life members are Mrs. Mary MacDonald, Mary Saunders, Jo Calder, Pat Krauskopf.

All I have to say is welcome to the new members and hope that you can take over the reins and make a good comeback. The new executive that was installed on the same evening is as follows: President, Mrs. Diane Caldwell; Vice President, Mrs. Jo Calder; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Jean Beaupre; Directors: Georgina Davies, Barbara Tailleux, Lynne Hudson, Dorothy Dubord.

The next meeting for the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion #176 will be an executive meeting on the evening of May 3 at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Caldwell at 10205 - 103 Street, phone 939-4833.

On May 10 a general meeting will be held at the Legion Hall at 8 p.m. So please ladies, make every effort to support your club and work together. Maybe you can get stronger than the men as you once were. Again good luck.

UPCOMING EVENTS
There will be an executive meeting on Wednesday, April 19 at 8 p.m., and a general meeting on Wednesday, April 26, 1978 at 8 p.m. We need a lot of members to attend as we have some serious matters to discuss and to pass. If you want to find out what is going to happen in the near future and have a voice in it April 26, 1978 at 8 p.m. is the night.

On April 29 District Rally will be held at Fort Saskatchewan Legion for both the Legion and the Ladies Auxiliary. Registration is at the Fort Saskatchewan Legion for both from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. For those interested, a Leadership seminar will take place at the Fort Saskatchewan Legion beginning at 10 a.m. on the same date. This will be the time to try out their NEW Legion premises and the good food that the Ladies Auxiliary put on.

On Saturday, May 6 Initiation and installation of the new executive for 1978 will be held at the Morinville Legion. All the new members that have not been initiated will have a chance to catch up also for those who want to join.

May 20 - 21 - 22 will see the Legion Camp Out at the Sandy Beach Provincial Park (west of Morinville). Steak BBQ will be held on Sunday, May 21. So please get hold of present members and make further enquiries to attend, or better yet, come to the general meeting on April 26. Last year was terrific with complete family entertainment all weekend.

Many of our members are not aware that the zone that we are in numbers 21 clubs. At the last zone meeting held in Spruce Grove on April 8 the zone was officially split in two, and we now have two zones in our district. We are in zone #6 along with 10 other clubs, while the other Zone is zone #1 which has 11 clubs. Zone Commanders were elected at the meeting. Zone #1 retained Comrade Walter Thomas from Fort Saskatchewan as their zone commander. Zone #6 Commander was voted in, and Comrade Wally Franks of the Jasper Place Legion won the honours. It looks like we have a real tiger for a zone commander, so let's get together and meet our new Commander on May 6 here in Morinville.

We have lots of projects to finish and new ones coming up, and also several events for you in the near future. Your help and support is needed badly. Come to the meetings - they do not take that long. Some of the members have not paid up their dues up to date and this is the time to do it. To do so get hold of Al Davies at 939-4132. New members wanting to join please show up at the two meetings listed above.

Last but not least, Bingo workers are still needed. Do not be afraid to show up and bring a friend.

GIBBONS KINDERGARTEN NEWS

Principal G. S. Schick advises parents of children presently enrolled in the Early Childhood Services program, and parents of children eligible to attend the 1978-79 Early Childhood program in Gibbons at two meetings arranged for next week.

On Monday, April 24 parents whose children will be involved in the 1978-79 program are requested to attend a meeting in the East wing of the school. The coffee meetings will see information presented on Early Childhood Services in general and the Gibbons program in particular. To be eligible next fall a child must be five years of age prior to March 1, 1979. Parent involvement is required in the establishment and operation of a kindergarten program, and programs do not continue automatically, so that it is important for parents to be present if at all possible.

On Tuesday, April 25, parents with children presently enrolled in kindergarten are asked to meet with school officials in the east wing of the school. It is necessary at this meeting to get parents views on dates for the current kindergarten year. The possibility of a "Beginners in June" program will also be discussed, and an evaluation of the present program may also be undertaken at this meeting, along with answering questions or concerns of parents.

Country folk may contact Lynda Bland, 921-2374 or if you wish, you may bring them in and leave them at Hugh Allen's, west of the #1 Wheat Pool.

Cleaning out the basement or garage and want to get rid of that accumulation of papers and magazines? The Golden Gems senior citizens club want them. The paper depot at Hugh Allen's is open all day, every day. Please tie newspapers securely AND separately. Magazines and phone books may be in bags or boxes.

A sincere thank you is extended to all those community-minded residents of Springbrook who were responsible for making the dance in aid of hall renovations so successful. Despite the small attendance, a profit of $266 was realized. A very special thank you to Chelsea Village for donating the music and to David Lesysen and Greg Shimbine for their help.

A very good crowd turned out to Bingo on Sunday evening. The jackpot is now $450 in 50 numbers. Winner of the consolation was Bingo is played every Sunday evening in the Community Centre basement. The games start at 7:30 sharp with a bonanza game and 15 games are played as series. Make Sunday your bingo night and bring along a friend.

The United Church Women wish to thank all those who attended and supported their recent April Showers tea. Winners of the door prizes were Mrs. Jean Briggs and Miss Connie Scott. ## "Music of bygone years"

By Margarette J. Atkinson

In the early 1900's, mother arrived in Canada from Scotland with her very large family to settle in Manitoba.

At that time the family owned a "phonogram." Now a phonogram was early type of "gramophone." There were two reproducers on it, instead of one head with the needle inserted for playing the records, as is done now. Each "reproducer" or head had a diamond in it, not a needle.

The records were shaped like hollow tubes. As they revolved the music then came out of a wide cone-shaped horn which was connected onto the side. Of course you could use the second head also containing a diamond, to record your own voices or piano playing. The tube type records were blank. This reproducer cut the sounds onto these blank recording tubes.

Many of the very great artists were on most of the tube records - John McCormack with his beautiful Irish voice and Harry Lauder as well, as delightful rhythms of those early times.

Music always filled the air at our house. First we had a "table model" wind up gramophone made of golden oak with a louvered front. After putting the record onto the turntable, you wound the handle (first setting your turntable). The head containing a sharp needle was set onto the record to play. Tunes like, "Little Grey Home In The West", or "There's a wee hoose Mung The Heather" or a lively "Charleston," were a thrill to all.

When we got our new gramophone in the year 1930 what excitement there was. Our other gramophone was placed in the old Gibbons water tank, where we spent rainy or wintery days in entertaining hobos, who had stopped in.

But the new gramophone at our railway home was the great entertainment. New records came to our place and sometimes someone visiting would bring some.

One fellow brought some recordings I wish mum had now. "My wife is on a diet and tries to keep it quiet!" Gee but she looks like the deuce. What used to be her fender, is growing thin and slender. Even her bumper is loose!" and so on, sung to a 1920's rhythm.

Our old Wilf Carter tunes such as the "Capture of Albert Johnston," can still be heard.

Being tiny, I used to tap dance and do the "Red River Jig," to the request of dad, when C.N. Rail workers were visiting. I can still cut loose and do it even now! Age never changed that ability.

Well, no stereo excites

FRESH CANADIAN VEGETABLES

Fresh, Canadian-grown vegetables are a bargain this winter.

Reg Greene of Agriculture Canada's fruit and vegetable division says potatoes, carrots, onions and rutabagas are all in good supply this winter and prices are the lowest they have been for several years.

Other fresh Canadian vegetables available in the winter include cabbage, parsnips and greenhouse tomatoes and cucumbers.

NEW HEAD FOR DAIRY R.O.P.

J.D. MacKechnie has been appointed head of the dairy cattle unit in Agriculture Canada's Livestock division. In his new position, Mr. MacKechnie will be in charge of the dairy R.O.P. program.

He was formerly supervisor of the department's showcase herd. Mr. MacKechnie has been associated with the dairy industry most of his life, including 16 years as secretary-manager of the Ayrshire Breeders Association of Canada.

DAIRY FEED FORMULATION SERVICE

The Canfarm Dairy Feed Formulation Service in Guelph helps dairy producers to plan and control their feeding programs.

Information on the makeup of a dairy herd is fed into the Canfarm computer. The computer then recommends the rations that would best suit the needs of the cows in the herd, taking into account the feed ingredients the farmer has on hand.

The service can help the producer attain higher milk production, savings in feed costs and better herd health.

The spot where the old Redwater Town Hall sat is rapidly becoming the future home for four Redwater residents, as Elchuk Construction is currently building four houses on the site. Emile Tkychak is shown above hard at work on one of the houses.

MOST IMPROVED

... The C and P Merchant trophy for the most improved player in the mite division went to Terry Berube and the award was presented by Carol and Panna Patrick.

everyone as much as the old time wind-up gramophone. It is not of our past at all. It's as lively as it ever was and wonderful.

Redwater Report

By Marguerite Neufeld
The Redwater Kindergarten registration meeting for the class of 1978-79 will be held April 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Redwater Primary School. Please attend as your child must be registered now. (This is your last chance to register before September, 1978).

Every Friday night is social evening at the Redwater Legion.

Minor hockey equipment should be turned in either to the coaches or at the Multiplex on Saturday at 11 a.m.

HOCKEY BANQUET

April 26 at 6:30 p.m., the Minor Hockey Banquet will take place at the Multiplex. It is a pot luck affair and admission is: enough food to feed all members of each family attending.

A fellowship gathering is being held each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in St. Clare's Church. This is an interdenominational gathering, everyone is cordially invited.

RESOUNDING JOY

Resounding Joy, a handbell choir under the direction of Linda McLennon from Laurier Heights Baptist Church, Edmonton, will present a musical program in the Redwater Community Evangelical Church, 4703 - 47 Avenue on April 23 at 7:30 p.m. You are invited.

KINSMEN

A cheque for $1,089.87 written on a "football" and presented to Kinsman District Deputy Governor, Jim Ford, via a forward pass. A unique way indeed to donate funds collected at the Kin Winter Festival. The money will go to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The Kinsmen of Redwater celebrated their first area Charter Anniversary at a banquet, which was held last Saturday evening at the Multiplex, when "the donation with a difference" was made.

An additional $50 won in a broomball game, $46 collected as a penalty from members of the Redwater and Morinville Kinsmen also went to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, making a total of $1,185.87 donated.

The Kinsmen calendar of events has a lot of excitement in store for the community. Beginning next month with the Mother's Day breakfast in May on Mother's Day morning, upstairs in the Multiplex. The mothers of the town are all invited. The hosting and catering will be entirely done by the Kinsmen. In mid-June, a carnival, is scheduled. In July - a circus and in August the North American Points Race for motorcycles and motocross is planned.

Last Wednesday April 12, a large group of parents and music lovers enjoyed a musical concert given by the grades 7, 8 and 9 band groups in the Redwater High School Gym. The progression of the students compared with the previous concert held a few months ago was very notable. Mr. Nuttal is to be congratulated and also with our thanks for the opportunity to witness this splendid performance.

THE LIONS DEN

Spring is here and our attention is being channelled into spring or summer activities. The children are beginning to use the Lions Park which will require beautification and attention. Picnickers and campers will soon be on the move and our campground must be ready for our spring and summer visitors. The campground is almost completed. A work party for April 22 should see it to completion. The picnic tables have been assembled by one hard working Lion, Mike Hrynchuk, but these still need to be stained. Get your paint brushes ready for April 22.

The Lions Walkathon will be held during the first week of June. Let's get the whole family out and enjoy a picnic lunch at the end of the journey. I need not remind the Kinsmen that we are out to even the score. Getting there early this time isn't going to help you. It's the number of miles you will do that counts.

Every year there is someone in our school and our community who gives of his time and money for the betterment of the community. This year the Lions will be presenting a "Citizen of the Year" award to recognize people of this type.

For the deserving student, a trip to some foreign country, to either use the skills and knowledge he has gained in school or to expand his or her knowledge. Since the walkathon is strongly supported by students, part of these monies will be set aside for the student exchange program.

Programs of this nature will require a great deal of co-operation from the community. Thanks for all you have already done, but our community is growing, and the need for services is increasing. We owe much to the Lionettes who have supported us in every venture we have undertaken. Besides helping us, they too are making their contribution to the community. Let's give our wholehearted support to their projects as well. One of them is coming soon - "The Fashion Parade," on April 20, unfortunately, this is only for the girls - no men allowed.

Our dream for an ambulance to serve our community has not become a reality as yet, but we have not given up on this idea. We hope that with your support it will become a reality.

St. Clare's annual Parish meeting is scheduled for April 26. Prior to the meeting there will be a mass at 5:30 p.m. and followed by a turkey supper in the Parish Hall.

All Parishioners please attend. The meeting itself should commence at approximately 7:15 p.m.

CLOTHING & FURNITURE DRIVE

Do you have any good, used furniture, any household items or any clean clothing, shoes or boots? If so, you may bring them to St. Clare's Church Hall during the week May 20 - May 29. The church hall will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day. Would you please put the men's clothing in separate boxes marked clearly MENS. These items will be delivered to the Marian Centre and the rest to the St. Vincent de Paul Store. For more information phone Bernie Olson at 735-3748.

Redwater Legion and Ladies Auxiliary News

By M. Kerber
L.A. Reporter

The regular monthly meeting of both the Legion and the Auxiliary was held Monday, April 17. At the Auxiliary meeting two new members were initiated, Margaret Kuesler and Jeanette Bugbee. We welcome them and hope to see more new members joining us in the future. Our president, Mable Cook will welcome inquiries about becoming a member as will our treasurer, Anne Evasew (the postmistress). When you stop for your mail ask Anne about joining.

The L.A. members have made sprucing up the Legion Lounge their next project, with some paint, some minor repairs and new drapes on the agenda.

For those of you ladies wanting a new microwave oven - the Auxiliary is going to be selling tickets for one next month. If you want to help with this project, either selling or buying tickets contact one of our members.

The Legion President, Mel Paulson, has asked me on behalf of the Legion to send 'Get Well Cards' to all members and/or their families who may be in hospital, so if you hear of one of our own who is ill - please let me know. We all know how nice it is to know someone is thinking of us and to receive a card.

The social evenings are being held every Friday in the Legion Hall. So far, I'm told, they have been like a house party not too well attended, but friendly. Come out and join us - you don't have to be a member, there will be one at the door to greet you and make you his or her guest.

Don't forget: Thursday is Legion evening - bingo and/or whist. This Thursday, the 20th, will be whist, and we are hoping for as good or better turnout of card players as last whist drive which was the best so far. If you enjoy whist do come down to the Legion Hall and join us.

The next 'Farmers' Market' sponsored by the Auxiliary will be held May 13 and you are invited to put up your own table. Contact Anne at the Post Office or Irene at 735-3010 for details.

Once again on behalf of the Auxiliary we welcome our new members and invite others to join us. Next meeting May 15.

If you hear of any Legion or Auxiliary member who is ill be sure and let me know so we can send them a card.

Remember Thursday is Legion evening bingo and/or whist and our Friday night socials. Come out and support us so we can in turn help you.

Next week I'll have the Legion membership requirements: See you then.

NEW SAWFLY-RESISTANT WHEAT

A new sawfly-resistant variety of hard red spring wheat called Chester will be available for planting this spring. Dr. Hugh McKenzie, a cerealist at Agriculture Canada's Lethbridge, Alberta, Research Station, says the availability of Chester is timely because sawfly populations have been increasing in southern Alberta and southwestern Saskatchewan for several years.

Diet, nutrition affect teeth

Diet and nutrition are major factors in prevention of tooth and gum diseases. A person should eat a balanced diet from the four basic food groups - meat, milk, fruits, vegetables, breads and cereals - as described in Canada's Food Guide. Drinking water with fluoride content, from birth, will help develop decay - resistant teeth. Snacking on sweets between meals can be especially harmful to the young because the sugar in candies, cakes, cookies, etc., has been linked to the production of acids in the mouth which attack tooth enamel.
